

Cut Margin Needed For Stock Purchases

Government Cuts Down Payment Required From 70 to 50 Per Cent In Effort to Stimulate Business

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington — The government today lowered the margin on stock purchases—apparently in an effort to help stimulate business and spur activity in the nation's sluggish stock markets.

There was varied reaction among businessmen to the federal reserve board announcement that effective today, the margin—or down payment—required for stock purchases was cut from 70 per cent to 50 per cent. The higher percentage had been in effect nearly three years.

The announcement came after other government reports showed production and income sagged in December. First comments on the margin change ranged from predictions that lowering the anti-inflation barrier would have little effect to a forecast the move would make the market more fluid.

The reduction was hailed by Keith Funston, president of the New York stock exchange, as giving the market a desirable added liquidity that he said would help industry raise new funds for working capital and expansion.

Other reaction from financial circles was mixed, with some specialists sharing Funston's optimism, others viewing the action as having only temporary effects on the market, and still others saying they thought the impact would be negligible. But most of those who commented expressed surprise.

The first effects of the margin-reducing action were felt on the Pacific coast stock exchange in San Francisco. It was still open when the reserve board's action was announced, and prices spurted ahead in active trading.

Reserve board officials declined to make any forecasts that the move might help reverse the downturn of business investment in new plant and equipment. But their action spoke for itself: If such a movement developed, high margin requirements would not be standing in the way of stock issues.

Ended With Bump
The board's decision was made public immediately after two announcements late yesterday which revealed that business ended 1957 with a harder-than-expected bump. These reports were:

1. Personal income, said the commerce department, dropped to $342,800,000,000 annual rate in December, down more than 2½ billion dollars from November.

This was the largest of four successive monthly declines, cutting the income of individuals $4 billion, in annual rate, below August's all-time high, and below August's all-time high.

Most of the decline resulted from smaller than usual year-end dividends, reflecting corporate caution and some squeeze on profits. But about $750 million of the drop represented reduced wage and salary payments.

2. Industrial production sagged in December to the lowest level since July 1956, when a nationwide steel strike hobbled output.

Output Dips
The federal reserve index of physical outputs from mines and factories dipped three points in the month to 136 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Auto assemblies declined 10 per cent and steel mills further slowed their operations to a rate of 40 per cent below a year ago.

These reports followed by a day the December employment figures which revealed that joblessness rose by 200,000 to 3,374,000. This was the highest unemployment for any December since the recession year 1949.

The movements were closely related: Production cutbacks shortened working hours. These in turn meant smaller paychecks or, in some cases, no checks at all.

Although officials and economists here almost unanimously predict an upturn by summer, the federal reserve's relaxation of margin requirements, applying both to purchases and short sales, was the latest in a series of government moves to counter the recession.

Defense spending has been stepped up, credit has been eased by a lowering of the federal reserve interest rate on loans to banks, new home financing has been liberalized, and President Eisenhower has unfrozen $180 million of funds for military and other housing programs.

Probe Ordered On Sale of Stolen Goods

Milwaukee — A full scale investigation was ordered Wednesday after an admitted receiver of stolen goods was quoted as saying he may have sold some of the items to policemen and firemen.

The probe was ordered by Chief of Police Howard Johnson, who said that in the event it is learned fire or policemen purchased stolen property "they will be treated the same as any other citizen who buys stolen merchandise, and they will lose it."

Walter L. Miske, Jr., 30, was named Monday in warrants accusing him of a $68,000 jewelry store burglary and with possession of some of the loot.

Miske has denied any knowledge of the Dec. 2 burglary at the Majestic Jewelers but was quoted by police as knowing some watches and rings he sold were part of the loot. He related that he obtained the pieces from two "strangers" who said they would return for their share of the sale price after the first of the year.

Tavernkeeper Aids GI Accused of Robbing Him Civil Defense Inadequate

Instructs Own Attorney to Defend Sergeant, Sends Money for Wife and Four Children

Milwaukee — A tavernkeeper with a soft heart stepped out from behind his bar Wednesday to help an army sergeant who is accused of holding up his establishment.

The soldier is the father of four small children.

What else could I do? asked Harold Schumacher, 43, the holdup victim. "Everywhere I go people tell me what a nice guy the kid is."

Schumacher was more than generous in his help as he instructed his own attorney to defend the sergeant. He also gave the sergeant's wife $20 and sent $5 to the accused man for "things he might need" while awaiting trial.

But Schumacher also got a long distance telephone call from his wife in Miami, Fla. "She said, 'Harold, you just can't prosecute that nice boy,'" Schumacher related. "I think it cost me $5 for her to tell me not to prosecute. You never met my wife."

The sergeant is Howard G. Rivers Jr., 24, who was quoted by police as admitting the $855 holdup on Jan. 6 while on leave from Fort Knox. The gunman wore a baby's diaper as a mask.

Rivers said he was "desperate" because he and his wife, Patricia, 23, were heavily in debt. Their children range in age from 2 months to 4 years.

"Even if he's the worst guy in the world, there are four kids and a wife there," said Schumacher. "But one thing struck me: He must have been a pretty good guy with all those people after me."

William J. Haese of Milwaukee made the assertion in a speech at a meeting of the Sheboygan County council of the American Legion. He said:

"We have in Wisconsin a state civil defense office which provides for a director and staff and a state civil defense council. A brief perusal of the achievements of these bodies make it apparent they are not adequate for this survival age."

"It is the American Legion's belief that our leaders have not kept the civil defense program in line with advances being made by science."

Three Defenses
He said the Legion finds three defenses against the threat:

"Reduction of urban vulnerability—that is, gradually dispersing cities by building industries in the less populated areas. This is long range planning."

"The building of protective shelters in the cities."

"The evacuation of Wisconsin target areas."

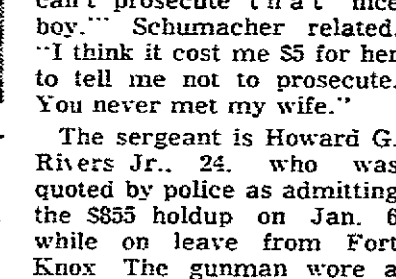

Four Suggestions
Haese also offered four suggestions which he said "would result in a better chance for the survival of all of the citizens of Wisconsin." They are:

"Appointment of a full-time state civil defense director who will be directly responsible to the governor in discharging the duties of his office."

"Legislation providing that the civil defense coordinators in each county be appointed to a full-time position."

"A survey of billeting facilities to assure Wisconsin residents in the target areas of reception care, should there be an evacuation."

"Action upon uniform training of welfare volunteers in every county in a program covering feeding, clothing, lodging, registration, religious and recreational needs, and rehabilitation."

Quick Thinking Teller Thwarts Attempt to Rob Milwaukee Bank

'Go Ahead, Shoot,' Woman Tells Gunman as She Drops Out of Sight

Milwaukee — A would-be bank bandit fled without loot or I'll shoot," the man answered Wednesday after a spunky woman teller tripped an alarm. It was then that Mrs. Lambrecht and challenged, "Go ahead and shoot," as she dropped out of sight behind the counter.

Mrs. Doris Lambrecht, 32, said she acted because she thought the man's gun was a toy and it resembled one she gave her son a short while ago.

"I wasn't frightened until afterwards," she said. "Then I guess I shook awhile."

Mrs. Lambrecht said she was at her cage in the north side office of the First Wisconsin National bank when the bandit entered and asked her about cashing a check. He then went to a table to make out a bank slip and returned to the window a few moments later.

Draws Gun
This time he pulled a large paper bag out of his pocket with his left hand and drew the gun from another pocket with his right.

"This is a stickup. Fill the bag quick or I'll shoot, and don't ring the alarm," Mrs. Lambrecht quoted him as saying.

She said that as she stepped on the alarm button she told him, "I don't have an alarm," and then began to slowly fill the bag with tens and twenties.

When the man demanded the money, she asked, "Don't you want to wait for more?"

"No, give me what you have," she said.

Colored Pictures May Be Used for Passports
Wilmington, Del. — Frances G. Knight, director of the U. S. Passport office in Washington, said Wednesday night tourists will be permitted to use colored prints for their official pictures effective Feb. 1 because of numerous complaints that "they look ugly on passport photographs."

Miss Knight said in a speech at a travel forum that she has already received several passport applications for the first trip to outer space.

U.S. Technicians Helping Stem Soviet Drive in Arab World

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

New York—The Russians served clear notice of their intentions.

"The capitalist countries no longer have a monopoly on supplying machinery and equipment, granting credits and imparting know-how," Soviet Delegate A. A. Arzumanyan told the Afro-Asian conference in Cairo last month.

The Russians thus repeated their war declaration in the political-economic field in underdeveloped countries. And, despite sputniks and missiles, the political-economic arena is the place where the decisive battles of the cold war are likely to be fought.

An important, and often unnoticed, part in this battle is played by America's small army of technical experts under the international cooperation administration program to help other nations help themselves. How are the Americans doing? Are there too many of them in the Middle East and North Africa?

Compared with the rest of the world, the Middle East, probably the most sensitive cold war front, received a relatively small share of the U. S. technical aid program, which Arabs still call Point Four.

Once, under President Truman's Point Four program, Americans were welcomed in Egypt. Their work inspired some of the ambitious projects of the Egyptian revolution. But 101; Jordan, 81; Lebanon, 63; Libya, 134; Ethiopia, 157; and Egypt, only 1. Syria was offered Point Four aid and rejected it on political grounds. Saudi Arabia first accepted, then rejected such help. There is no program in the Sudan.

American - Egyptian relations soured. Today the program in Egypt is insignificant.

Altogether there are 862 Americans working on technical aid programs in Middle East countries, distributed as follows: Iran, 315; Iraq,

Before the Suez canal nationalization in 1956, Egypt had 75 American technicians, but the ICA program has been "temporarily suspended" since that crisis.

In North Africa, Tunisia has only 8 American technicians

U. S. prestige is high there. Tunisia wants more Americans.

Arabs Like Americans

Morocco has a staff of 21 Americans. There is no significant anti-American feeling, but since there is a military installation of 15,000 Americans, it is one of the countries which might complain of "too many Americans."

In the Arab east, the once common complaint of "too many Americans" seems to be lessening. Perhaps this is because Soviet offers of technicians made Arabs suspicious. They do not know Russians. They know Americans and generally like them — although the U. S. government has been losing friends swiftly through the area.

An American official of the ICA concedes there are a few "bad Americans who give all of us a black eye."

But, said an American diplomat: "instead of personnel cutbacks, perhaps our agencies in Washington should give a little more thought to personnel selectivity."

Arabs have complained that too many aid dollars went into fat American salaries. The facts seem to dispute this. In any event, ICA officials contend there are just not enough Arab technicians qualified to do the work. This is the basic reason for the ICA program.

On the whole, Arabs agree most of the projects have been worthwhile. Said one Arab official:

"Point Four has given employment to thousands in the Middle East who otherwise would not have jobs. Even Americans are spending their money here, which means employment for still more."

'Point Four Eggs'

In Lebanon, American technicians' work produced a new breed of chicken which thrives in the climate and produces eggs greatly superior to the local type. Lebanese call them "Point Four Eggs."

The Lebanese government had been spending $16,000 a year trying to keep coastal highways clear of drifting sand. It was a losing fight. But "in three days, a Point Four technician did the job for all time," a Lebanese official said. He found a wild grass which would thrive in the sand, and had the army plant shoots along the highways.

The Middle East has many examples of so-called "trivial" jobs which paid off. There are dozens of big projects, too, like the Litani river program in Lebanon which has proved an irrigation-hydroelectric project feasible and induced the world bank to lend $26 million for it.

In Iraq, ICA technicians cooperate with the Iraq development board on a huge economic program paid for by the nation's oil revenues. Similar work goes on in Jordan, Libya and other Arab areas.

In Tunis, Adm. Elliott B. Strauss, director of the special U.S. economic mission, says his staff of 8 American technicians is clearly insufficient. Current aid to Tunisia runs to $15 million yearly, to raise living standards. It has sent Tunisian students to the United States and Europe for training. It has supplied wheat to meet local shortages. But, said a Tunisian official, it is "just an encouraging beginning."

Need More Aid

"If we cannot obtain sufficient American and French aid," said Ahmed Kenani, Tunisia's planning undersecretary, "unemployment will rise and will quickly threaten the very foundations of the current regime. Without an increase of resources and economic-technical aid from France and the United States, Tunisian independence will no longer have any meaning."

In Rabat, Cedric H. Seager, chief of the Morocco ICA mission, concedes there may be too many Americans around, what with the military personnel. He says it might be advisable to keep the American aid staff in Morocco to a minimum and find substitutes, possibly among the French and Spanish. The consensus among Moroccans seems to be that they don't want American technicians so much as U.S. cash to finance projects which they think they can handle themselves.

You've known families who have it . . .
boundless energy, the zip and enthusiasm that makes them "lots of fun."
Heredity undoubtedly is important—so is the ability not to worry.

But what you eat and drink is important, too . . .
Science tells us that most of us would feel better, live longer, have more sparkle and pep if we had far less fat, far more protein in our daily diets. Fat puffs out waistlines—slows us down. Protein rebuilds and revitalizes tired nerves and tissues—supplies energy with "staying power."

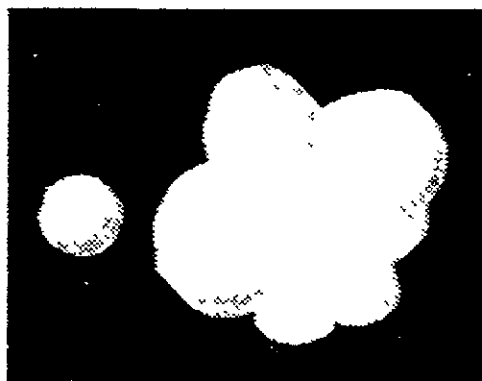

Now Pet Milk Company brings you milk protein—the high-quality kind needed for this rebuilding, revitalizing job—in a drink that's completely delicious and refreshing, free of fat and unbelievably easy to mix! New PET Instant!

36.5% PROTEIN—and guaranteed less than 1% fat. New PET Instant is rich in the things that help give you and your family extra sparkle and vitality . . . that supply energy with "staying power."

IT'S AMERICA'S NEW PROTEIN-RICH SPARKLE AND VITALITY DRINK

NEW, EXCLUSIVE INSTANTIZING carries instant mixing a big step forward. The nonfat milk crystals are "popped" so they dissolve the instant they touch water—mix almost faster than you can stir!

FLAVOR MORE REFRESHING than fresh whole milk! No clinging "fatty" aftertaste—none of the "powdery" taste of earlier dry milks—but a rich, fresh flavor your family will enjoy!

Look for it in its brand-new, bright-blue FLAVOR-SAVER PACKAGE. Double-sealed in foil—handy pouring spout! Two sizes. 4-qt.; 12-qt. Copr. 1957 Pet Milk Co.

Educators Ask Balanced Studies, Defend America's Teaching System

Two Schoolmen Open Day-Long Meeting For Area Administrators, Supervisors

BY BETTY KILICH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A plea for a balanced curriculum and a defense of America's education system was offered by two professional educators during a day-long education meeting at the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point.

About 100 supervisors and administrators from Outagamie, Waupaca, Waubesa, and Calumet counties met at Morgan school to hear speeches by Dr. Gordon B. Berman, of the department of public instruction, and Dr. Carl Traeger, principal of Oshkosh High School. The all-day meeting is one of a series of curriculum conferences sponsored by the department of public instruction.

Boardman contended many educational recommendations and criticisms recently offered by prominent scientists, college presidents and others were made "glorily and were of such a sort that no Wisconsin school man, still green, would dream of them."

Intense Difficulties
Educators are confronted with difficulties in intensified form, he went on. As a balance, he suggested three considerations — social demands, child development and cultural heritage — for educational systems.

Council Approves Close-Out Sale by Furniture Store

The city council Wednesday night suspended its procedure rules to grant a close-out sale permit to the Ellenbecker Furniture company, 217 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Alderman Homer Malmstrom, continuing a protest of several years, voted against suspending the rules. Malmstrom takes the position that the application could have been filed in time for referral to a committee and a committee recommendation, the normal council procedure for new business.

James and John Ellenbecker are listed as partners of the company. The close-out, including some $11,621 of inventory, will begin Feb. 1 and end Feb. 28.

Vanguard Test Shows Rocket Ready to Go

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — (AP) — Martin company and the Navy ground tested the main engine of the Vanguard rocket in the rain last night. The results were happy.

Pleased workers on the big Martin-built satellite launching vehicle reported that the electrical checks, pressurization tests and other details which must be gone over before a launching came off all right — that the whole enterprise "looked good."

This was the unofficial accounting of the rocket test. Officially, the defense department in a statement issued an hour and a half after the firing said only that "there was a routine static test of a missile."

Tower Recognized
There was no hiding the missile's identity, however. Hundreds of citizens in this area recognize the distinctive Vanguard launching tower without difficulty.

The average time between a final missile static test here and a launching attempt is about 10 days. If this holds true for Vanguard, there probably will be no attempt to launch the 72-foot rocket before the end of next week.

Although the main purpose of the launch will be to flight test the full rocket assembly for the first time, the Vanguard as a bonus will carry a 6.4 inch satellite in its nose.

During the preliminaries to last night's static firing, rain squalls gave the test crews some concern. The rain, however, failed to upset the delicate instruments or to interfere with the test.

350 of State's 5,304 Attorneys In Fox Valley

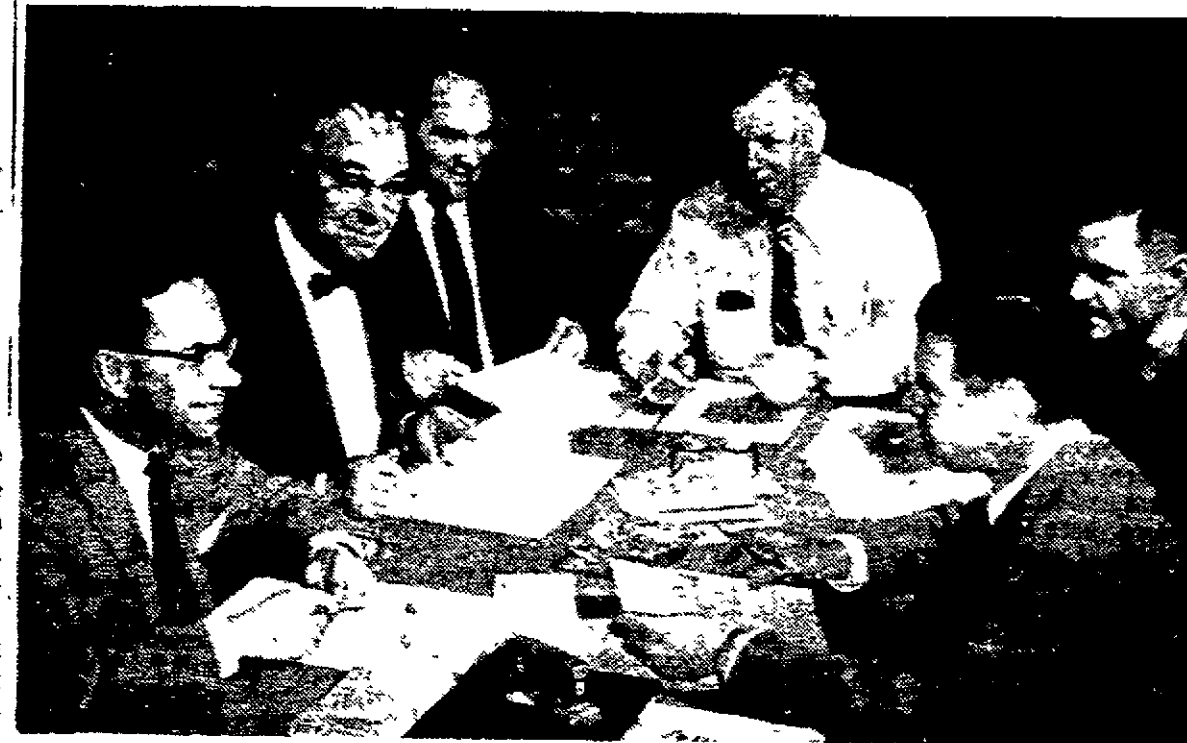

There are 350 of the state's 5,304 attorneys in Outagamie county and the four surrounding counties, a study by the State Bar of Wisconsin shows.

Outagamie county has 88 attorneys, Winnebago 102, Brown 115, Waupaca 30 and Calumet 15.

The State Bar, established by order of the supreme court in 1936, finished its first year of operation Dec. 31 with a total enrollment of 6,339 members, including 1,235 members living outside the state.

Of those living in the state, only 4,762 are active members. There are 536 inactive members, including 113 full-time judges, and six members in the armed forces.

More than 45 per cent of the state's active lawyers live in Milwaukee county, and another 11 per cent live in Dane county. Smallest county representations are in Florence and Burnett counties, each of which has two attorneys.

A Stepped-Up Effort to Solicit the remaining $200,000 needed to make the $700,000 Appleton Memorial hospital completion fund campaign a success is reflected in added activity in the fund drive offices. Mapping plans for the remaining two weeks are, from left, Hartley Barker, Elmer Root, Richard Van Sistine, Carl Schroeder, general chairman, Oscar Boldt and Arnold Evans. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Local, National Competition

Comic Contest Victor Could Win Many Prizes

Okay, kids, get your pencils and wits sharpened. It's time for the annual Post-Crescent comic contest and stakes are higher than ever this year.

Rules are different, too, and the age limit for contestants has been raised to 19 years, through the addition of another category for contestants.

What are your prizes if you're dubbed a national winner? In the pre-teen group (12 years of age or under), the winner will receive a complete set of the Book of Knowledge, a wrist watch, a globe, a bicycle and an original drawing by your favorite cartoonist.

If you win in the teenage category (13 through 19 years of age), you'll get an all-expense round trip to New York City where you'll be given a V.I.P. weekend, the red carpet treatment at the Hotel Park Lane, personal appearances on radio and television programs, and an evening at the hit Broadway musical, "Li'l Abner."

In addition, the teenage victor will receive a home study course from Famous Artists schools, Westport, Conn., an electric wrist watch, a globe and a complete 30-volume set of the Encyclopedia Americana.

To local winners in both categories, the Post-Crescent will give a $25 savings bond, first, $10 cash, second, and $2 cash, third.

Here are the rules: Each contestant must submit a drawing of a comic character appearing regularly in the Post-Crescent. This drawing must be on one side of an 8-inch by 10-inch sheet of white paper and may be in ink, pencil, water color or any other suitable medium. For maximum consideration, the drawing should depict the character or characters in action, an action created by the contestant.

Tracings will not be eligible. A statement of 100 words or less on "Why I Like Newspaper Comics" must be written on a separate sheet of 8 by 10 white paper, one side only, and should be printed, typewritten or written in a clear, legible hand. Neatness of drawing and clarity of statement will be determining factors in choosing winning entries.

Only One Entry
Each contestant will be permitted only one entry which must be postmarked on or before midnight, Saturday, Feb. 13. All entries become the property of the Post-Crescent and the Newspaper Comics Council, Inc., and none can be returned.

All entries must be accompanied by an entry blank. Entries may be brought directly to the Post-Crescent or sent by mail. Those brought into the office must be there no later than 4:30 Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13.

If mailing, address all entries to: Newspaper Comics Contest Editor, Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis.

Winners of the Fox Cities area contest will be eligible to win the National Comics Council contest.

Judges for local entries are Will Olson, copy service manager, Fred Schmidt, staff artist, and David Lindsey, promotion manager, all of the Post-Crescent.

Children of or children of relatives of Post-Crescent employees are not eligible.

Pension Fund Gets $6,224 From Fines, License Fees in '57

A total of $6,224.23 has been placed in the police pension fund from 1957 municipal court fines and license fees. City Clerk Elden Broehm said today.

The money represents 25 per cent of the court fines and 25 per cent of all license fees.

Broehm said the court fines totaled $20,715.60, resulting in $5,178.90 for the fund.

License fees amounted to $41,813.23, he said, resulting in $10,453.33 for the fund.

These were the sums assigned to the various license categories, Broehm said:

Class B liquor, $8,100; class B liquor, $10,756.25; class A liquor, $1,750; wholesale beer, $425; class A beer, $520; class B beer, $125; pharmacist packaged goods, $30; bartender, $24; taxicabs and drivers, $381.50; draymen, $62; junk dealer, $285; milk, $1,074; dance, $55; cigarette, $1,390; and miscellaneous, $16,333.48.

Correction

The name of Harry A. Wachter as auditor was omitted from a story on the First National Bank's annual meeting appearing in Wednesday's Post-Crescent. The story incorrectly listed total deposits as $18,469,438.62. The correct figure for total deposits is $40,349,000.98. Total loans are $18,469,438.62.

'Wega Policeman Dismissed by City Council

Weyauwega—Freemont Farley, 42, was dismissed from the Weyauwega police force at a special council meeting called to hear charges against the patrolman.

Mayor Irv Feragen conducted a hearing on the charge of conduct unbecoming a police officer and detrimental to the service brought against Farley by Police Chief Emmett Mitchell.

After hearing testimony, the council cast a unanimous secret ballot for Farley's dismissal.

Farley was hired on a probationary basis on Dec. 10. On Jan. 1 he went on full time duty. The offense leading to his dismissal occurred Jan. 11. The special council meeting was held Monday.

Chief Mitchell said today the council will advertise for another patrolman to give the city 3-man, full-time force. He said it is hoped the third man will be from Weyauwega.

The police force has been under close scrutiny in the city. The Chamber of Commerce recently conducted a study of enforcement edicts Chief Mitchell has issued.

Kaukauna-to-Appleton Bus Line to Take Off One Bus After Saturday

One Kaukauna-to-Appleton bus will be discontinued after Saturday. Elwood Kobussen, bus line operator, announced today.

The bus is the one which leaves Kaukauna at 12:45 in the afternoon and returns from downtown Appleton at 1:15 in the afternoon.

It was added to the line's service in December on a trial basis and did not result in profit, Kobussen said.

Social Security

Finds No Way Widow Might Be Able to Boost Benefits

BY D. B. GALLAGHER

"I am a widow, 76, and receive $46.50 monthly in social security checks from my deceased husband's account. To increase my income, I am now renting four rooms and one apartment. But operating expenses are high and I have a woman to assist me, so it is hard to break even. Is there any way by which I can have my social security checks increased?"

Mrs. H. G.

The only way to get an increase in your present social security benefits would be for you to have net earnings of at least $100 a month and it is very doubtful if such earnings are possible from the rent of four rooms. The apartment rent would not be covered by social security. Wish we could say different, but facts are facts.

"I am past 63 and receiving monthly social security checks of $89.10. My wife is 70 and also gets monthly checks of $87.10. Is she now entitled to receive anything from my record? If not, would she be eligible for anything additional in case of my death?"

Your wife is already getting more from her own credits than is due from yours and the same condition would exist in case of your death. So no additional monthly social security benefits are due her from your account. When you die, your wife will be eligible for a lump sum burial benefit of $235 and your account would then be closed.

"My husband was killed in 1945 and since that time I have been receiving social security monthly checks for myself and my minor son. He is afflicted with bad hearing. This retards him in his school work and he will be past 18 before he finishes public school. Is there a possibility for his benefits to continue under such conditions? Then what will I receive at the age of 62 if his benefits are stopped by that time? I am now 59."

Mrs. H. D.

Unless your son can qualify for total disability, which is very doubtful, monthly benefit checks will be canceled as of the month in which he reaches 18. Six months before he is 18, check at the social security office regarding possible disability benefits for him.

New National Budget Belongs To U. S. People

Congress Will be Held Responsible At Election Time

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The headlines call it "the budget." Congress alone, however, can vote the money. The president proposes, but Congress disposes.

Whose budget, then, is it? Who takes the responsibility, especially when the Democratic party controls the legislative branch and the Republican party controls the executive branch of the government?

It's really the people's budget. For only they can tell Congress what to do and what not to do.

The pressure for specific appropriations is intense. It goes on here in myriad ways. Each group has its own special argument and special means of communicating it to Congress.

The Congress will have to go before the people with its decision next November, when the entire house of representatives and one-third of the senate must be elected.

Will the budget be an issue? Certainly it will be, and the reasons are conflicting. Some people will be resentful that the budget has gone higher than before and that there has been no decrease in taxes. Others will worry because the communists are supposed to be ahead of us militarily and presumably America hasn't spent enough.

Basically the people want peace — not war. They will approve any spending that assures peace. The president's determination is to keep the nation at peace by building up its military strength and by insuring the strength of our allies, some of whom have economic troubles that require American aid.

Wave Of Indignation
Last year at this time a wave of indignation swept the country because the budget recommended by the White House was $71.8 billion. It wasn't so much the size of the budget but the rate at which it was rising that excited many critics. For a runaway spending spree was condemned as meaning more inflation, higher prices and a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar.

Examining the new budget, which asks for $73.9 billion, it is important to focus on the non-defense totals. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1957, all non-defense spending proposed was $25 billion.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, it is $27.9 billion.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, the non-defense items total $27.6 billion, which is a reduction of $300 million from the previous year.

This shows how little change there has been in the non-defense schedules, and it is to be noted that "non-defense" includes aid for our allies under development and technical assistance programs. This total budget that are wanted by special $455 million in 1957, approximately $604 million for 1958, and $785 million for 1959.

So it is apparent that federal expenses for non-defense items are being held down.

The big expense is on the armaments side, which has been postponed or eliminated in an era of "spunk" urgency.

This isn't a sensational in-

Couples Club Plans Family Night Sunday

Kaukauna — The Couples club of the Methodist church will sponsor a family night Sunday in the church fellowship hall. Tobogganing and skating parties will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon preceding the supper. Those wanting to toboggan will meet at the home of Robert Lacey and those wanting to ice skate will meet at the Park school playground. The supper will be served at 5 o'clock.

On the committee for the supper are Mr. and Mrs. William Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Belanger.

The program will consist of a sound film series. On the program committee are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Speenker, Dr. and Mrs. Willis Burgins and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bastian.

Post Office Receipts In '57 Hit New High

Kaukauna — Postal receipts in Kaukauna during 1957 continued to increase over previous years and another all time high was reached, according to Robert Grogan, postmaster.

Receipts for the year amounted to $93,788 compared to the previous record of $89,623 in 1956, said the postmaster. The increase reflects the normal growth of the city based on increased business and residential construction.

Cancellations at the Kaukauna post office increased slightly as $3,899,670 were reported in 1956 compared to 1,390,933 in 1957. Total receipts at the post office are derived from postage stamp sales, printed stamped envelopes, and fees for metered and non-metered postage.

Figure Breakdown
Printed stamped envelope sales in 1956 amounted to $2,440 compared to $1,573 in 1957. Postage stamp sales increased from $43,738 in 1956 to $44,473 in 1957. Revenue from second class mail in 1956 brought in $357 whereas in 1957 it amounted to $362.

Figures in 1956 showed $38,683 for metered postage but in 1957 this figure was split to show $32,018 metered by patrons and $10,508 by others. Non-metered postage in 1956 amounted to $3,595 compared to $3,791 in 1957. Non-metered application fees for both years amounted to $20. Bulk mailing fees in 1956 were $140 compared to $200 last year. Box rentals in 1956 brought in $620 compared to $814 in 1957.

Miscellaneous postal receipts for both years amounted to about $25. The report by Grogan shows 17,936 domestic money orders were issued in 1956, total amount of the money orders being $299,440 and fees totaling $3,450. The 1957 report lists 16,089 issued, total amount being $276,896 and fees amounting to $3,448.

The post office issued 18 international money orders in 1956 compared to 22 in 1957. The amount of the orders in '56 was $214 and fees were $5.80 whereas the 1957 amount was $729 and fees were $9.40.

Routes Extended
Another indication of the continued growth of the city is shown in the extension of postal delivery routes in the city during 1957. Routes are removed from the rural mailing list and put on carrier delivery routes when sufficient homes are built in the areas involved and adequate walks are provided.

During 1957 a total of 88 families in Kaukauna were removed from rural routes and provided with carrier delivery service. This figure includes 65 families living in the south and southeastern part of the city near Main avenue and Crooks avenue, and 23 families on Florence street, the northeast section of the city.

Events Listed For Dimes Drive

Firemen Will Sell Gas at Station All Day Sunday

Little Chute — Many events have been scheduled for the benefit of the March of Dimes drive in Little Chute, according to Tony Van Bortel, chairman.

Sunday, members of the volunteer fire department will man the pumps at Cease's DX Service station. All proceeds from the sale of gas will go to the drive.

The annual Mothers' March will be Jan. 23 and will be jointly conducted by members of the American Legion auxiliary and mothers of polio victims in the village. Hour of the drive will be from 6 to 7 o'clock in the evening.

A public square dance will be conducted Jan. 30 at the St. John High school gym. For those not familiar with the square dance steps there will be spectator tickets available at the door. Several business places also are selling tickets for the event.

The Kiwanis club will sponsor a public auction Feb. 2 at 1:30 in the afternoon at the village hall. Residents are asked to donate usable items. Items should be brought to the hall Feb. 1. Area auctioneers will conduct the auction and all proceeds will be for polio.

Locks Youth's License Suspended for Speeding In School Zone

Kimberly — Earl Gavaert, 16, Lom street, Combined Locks, appeared in justice court at Kimberly Tuesday night and had his driver's license suspended for one year after pleading guilty of speeding in a school zone.

Gavaert was arrested Monday after a complaint by a citizen that he was racing near the Kimberly public school during the noon hour. Six points were charged against his driving record.

Mark Recker, 33, 720 E. Harding avenue, Appleton, was fined $10 and costs for speeding beyond reason for existing conditions. Recker was arrested Monday by village police and three points were charged against his driving record.

Change Office Hours For Clerk-Treasurer

Little Chute — Mrs. Loretta Versteegen, clerk-treasurer of the village, has announced that her office will close at 4 o'clock each day instead of 5 o'clock as before.

Hours effective Monday through Friday are 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Saturday the office will be open from 9 to 12 o'clock only.

Kaukauna Bank Lists Increase In '57 Assets

Annual Report Shows Growth of Institution Compared to 1956

Kaukauna — Total assets of the Bank of Kaukauna continued to show an annual increase, according to the report by L. J. Merlo, executive vice president. The 1957 total was $3,650,611 compared to $3,335,976 in 1956.

An increase of $254,093 was reported in 1956 over the 1955 total. Although the cash, balances with other banks, reserve balance and cash items in process of collection decreased from $740,425 in 1956 compared to $699,228 in 1957, the United States government obligations, direct and guaranteed, increased from $767,756 to $860,275. Obligations of states and political subdivisions also increased from $146,018 to $159,550.

The report lists assets of $42,883 for bonds, notes and debentures in 1956 compared to $31,938 in 1957. Corporate stock in the federal reserve bank was increased from $6,000 in 1956 to $7,500 in 1957. Loans and discounts in 1957 were listed at $1,719,009 compared to $1,560,185 in 1956. Value of the bank premises, furniture and fixtures in 1956 was set at $70,525 compared to $69,037 in 1957, normal depreciation. Other or miscellaneous assets in 1956 amounted to $2,181 compared to $4,122 in 1957.

Liabilities Listed
Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations decreased from $1,601,796 in 1956 to $1,593,382 in 1957. Time deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations increased from $1,122,145 in 1956 to $1,433,953 in 1957.

Deposits of United States government, including postal savings, amounted to $16,968 in 1956 whereas the 1957 total was $29,683. Deposits of states and subdivisions in 1956 were listed at $195,017 and the 1957 figure was $262,782. Other deposits in 1956 amounted to $1,740 compared to $5,892 in 1957, making total deposits in 1957 amounting to $3,325,694 compared to $3,037,666 in 1956.

Miscellaneous liabilities in 1956 were listed at 790 compared to 11,053 in 1957, thus making total liabilities of $3,336,747 in 1957 and $3,038,456 in 1956. Capital accounts listed in 1956 and 1957 showed $100,000 in bank's capital consisting of common stock with a total par value of that figure. $100,000 in surplus in 1956 compared to a $150,000 surplus in 1957 and undivided profits amounting to $97,519 in 1956 compared to $63,913 in 1957.

The total capital accounts in 1956 amounted to $297,519 compared to $313,913 in 1957. Total liabilities and capital accounts balance the total assets figure.

Holy Name CYO Tips St. Joe's

Kimberly — Holy Name CYO cagers kept their perfect record intact as they scored their 11th straight win of the season with a 56 to 33 victory over St. Joe's of Appleton.

In the Fox Valley CYO conference the Papermakers are in first place with a 9-0 slate. The other two wins came in non-loop tilts.

Allan Hammen was the high scorer for Kimberly in the win over St. Joe's as he counted six field goals and a pair of free throws for 14 points. George Van Beek followed with 11.

For St. Joe's Verkuilen was high point man with 10 markers.

Building Permit Issued For Office Remodeling

Kaukauna — A building permit to construct a new front on an office building was issued Wednesday by Lohar Kemp, assistant building inspector, to the Beyer Building Supply company, 1023 Lawe street.

The work will cost an estimated $1,000 and contractor for the job will be Ed Nimmer. This is the second building permit issued this year.

Golden Agers Change Schedule of Meetings

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Golden Age club has changed its schedule of meetings from Wednesday evenings to the second and fourth Monday night each month.

The meetings will still get underway at 7:30 in the evening and they will be held in the clubrooms of the municipal building. The next meeting will be held Jan. 27.

First Race Is Developing for April Election

Kaukauna — The first race for office in the April 1 election was hinted Tuesday afternoon when Phillip H. Voights, 1705 Crooks avenue, took out nomination papers for Fourth ward alderman.

Voights is circulating papers, along with Gilbert Anderson, incumbent, Frank P. Walsh, 702 Main avenue, Kaukauna, filed his nomination papers Wednesday morning. He is seeking election as count supervisor from the Fourth ward, a post currently held by John Corcoran who has yet to take out nomination papers.

Kimberly High Will Entertain Trucker Team

Papermakers Try To Return to Win Column in M-E Loop

Kimberly — After suffering its second Mid-Eastern conference loss of the season at the hands of powerful Shawano, the Kimberly High basketball team will attempt to get back on the victory trail when it entertains Clintonville Friday night.

The Junior varsity game will start at 8:30 and the varsity game is slated for 8:15.

The Papermakers league record stands at 4-2 and the pair of defeats have come in succession, one to strong Neenah and the other to the Indians.

Clintonville is expected to be no pushover for Kimberly as the Trucker's have come up with some sparkling performance although losing to some of the top teams. In their last outing they pushed Two Rivers to the limit before dropping a close decision.

For the season the Kimberly record is 6-3 with two victories and one loss against non-stop foes.

The starting lineup for Kimberly will include Don Heerden and "Junior" Peerenboom at guards, Darrell Jensen at center and Paul Vanamman at forward.

Reserves will include Warren Polman, Jay Vander Velde, Dave Minten, Dennis Valentine, Dan Vanden Heuvel and Bill Van Elzen.

KHS Cagers to Seek .500 Mark At New London

Winless Bulldogs Show Improvement After Slow Start

Kaukauna — The Galloping Ghosts will attempt to reach the .500 mark in Mid-east conference action at 8 o'clock Friday night when they invade the New London High school gym for a game with the winless Bulldogs. Kaukauna has won two and lost three.

The Ghosts opened the 1958 portion of the schedule with a win over Menasha thus bettering their entire 1956-57 season's record. New London has started out slowly this year as Coach Greg Charlesworth lost his entire starting squad from last season and has been trying to find a winning combination to go with his three returning letter winners.

All New London's returnees saw only limited action last year. Lettermen include Dale Monsour, Bob Elsholtz and Gary Stern. The Bulldogs have improved greatly since the start of the campaign and in their last outing gave the undefeated Neenah Rockets a run to the wire before dropping the decision.

Comparative Scores

The two teams have met four common opponents and on paper the nod should go to the Ghosts although the home court advantage may help balance the score. New London dropped a 59 to 27 game to Shawano while Kaukauna lost a 66-49 decision. The Bulldogs lost 62 to 55 to Two Rivers and Kaukauna lost 62 to 44. Neenah edged New London 76 to 50 and Kaukauna lost 73 to 46 to the Rockets.

Kaukauna downed Menasha 71 to 67 and New London lost a 66 to 49 decision to the Bluejays. The final loss for New London was a 56 to 44 decision to Kimberly while Kaukauna nosed out Clintonville 49 to 47 in its final loop game.

Coach Gerry Hopfensperger is expected to go with his starting line-up of two seniors, two sophomores and a junior which has looked well in earlier games. Starters include Bill Simon, Jim Walsh, Bill Borchardt, Lee Weyenberg and Gary Vannevenhoven with Glen Hinkens, Charles Kemp, Dan Verbeten, Ron Busse and Keith Kemp in reserve.

Likely starters for New London besides the letter winners are Kirk Fletcher and Jerry Schroeder. Others sure to see action are Dennis Roff, Tom Beckman and Dale Waushesock.

Kansas City Board Of Education to Get Recommendations

Kansas City —P— Several recommendations for putting the quietus on schoolboy hoodlums were ready for the Kansas City board of education at its monthly meeting today.

One item on the agenda was the case of Preston Young, accused of hitting a gym instructor at Central Junior High school Jan. 8.

Supt. James A. Hazlett indicated he will ask that the boy be expelled. He also will urge that this be made the almost automatic punishment for any pupil who molests an instructor.

The school system's committee on pupil discipline and delinquency—14 teachers, principals and school administrators—met yesterday and endorsed the superintendent's moves in the past week against the unruly.

Wants Support

"The committee . . . expresses the hope the board of education will give official support to his effort," it said in a resolution.

Linwood Davis, 18-year-old Negro, was fined $35 in police court yesterday for carrying a knife into Central Junior high last week. He is not a pupil there. He said he carried the knife to protect himself from a juvenile gang.

Superintendent Hazlett has asked teachers and principals to start proceedings quickly against pupils who carry weapons or bully smaller youngsters for their lunch money.

He proposed he and his aides be permitted to suspend the persistent trouble makers for a full semester. The limit now is 10 days and only the board of education can impose sterner punishment—expulsion.

Ask Study

The discipline committee asked for a thorough and professional study of pupil needs and behavior problems and what can be done to cope with them.

Ray Hailey, principal at Central Junior high, announced he had formed two committees for a similar purpose.

His school has been the focal point of recent violence, a fact which raises the question of whether racial tension is to blame.

Central Junior high, along with other Missouri schools, in the segregated four years ago. About 60 per cent of its pupils are Negroes, the highest percentage of any school in the city with made no formal decision on both whites and Negroes.

"When you have a fight there, council, but have seemed to it may not be caused by racial lean toward the golf course issues but before it is over you tract.

may have a white-Negro problem on your hands," said Supt. Thomas K. Schneider, has said the tract is larger than that

Oxygen Fish Breathe Is Free Element From Aerated Layer

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Scientists are able to turn water into two gases — oxygen and hydrogen — but fish are without that skill. They live in water which contains a vast amount of oxygen, but are without the ability to divide the water into gases.

How, then, are fish able to breathe with their gills?

The answer is that they take life at great depths?

A. They, too, must have oxygen. They tend to be slow-moving and need less oxygen, but they do need a small supply. They obtain it when the uppermost layer of water sinks because it becomes heavier than the water below. The aerated layer takes down free oxygen, and this is enough for the sluggish fish which live at great depths.

Q. Why don't deep sea fish swim up to the surface to obtain a better supply of oxygen?

A. They are too lazy, in the first place. In addition they would meet trouble. Their bodies are fitted for life where the water is under high pressure.

Petitions Being Drafted For Vote on Pool Site

B. Laymon Wanser Says Forms May Be Ready For Circulation by Tuesday, Opposes Golf Site

Petitions which would force a referendum over the site for an outdoor swimming pool are being drafted.

B. Laymon Wanser, 1504 W. Brewster street, former president of the Appleton Municipal Golf association, said he expects petition forms to be ready Tuesday.

Then, he said, he expects most of the near 100-member golf association to help him circulate them.

Wanser's ire is directed toward the giving of the southeast corner of Reid Municipal course to the city as a possible pool site.

Belongs in Park

A pool on the golf course, he said, would disturb a golfer's concentration and prove a safety hazard for young swimmers. The site, he added, also fails to provide needed space for parking.

"The pool belongs in a park," said Wanser. "Telulah park would be ideal. It's a beautiful park. And, the city already has the precedent of pool-in-park at Erb park."

Board Reluctant

The park board at Wednesday night's council meeting informed the council it was willing to turn over the southeast corner for the site of a pool. Board members a week ago, in making the decision, said they were doing it with reluctance.

Pool committeemen have of any school in the city with made no formal decision on both whites and Negroes.

Schedule 3 County Farm, Home Sessions

A series of three meetings on farm and home management have been scheduled for January, February and March, according to Russell Luckow, assistant county agent.

The meetings will be in Little Chute, Jan. 23, Black Creek, Feb. 20 and Hortonville, March 20. All sessions start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the respective community halls.

A. O. Follet, University of Wisconsin, will discuss income tax changes at the Little Chute meeting. Harold Huttenberg, head of the county farm management association, will talk on common errors made in filing taxes. Also on the agenda will be panel discussions on farm and home records.

Topics for Black Creek include seed and fertilizer buying, results of county demonstration projects and preparation of small fruit varieties.

Discussions on property transfers and social security benefit will be featured on the Hortonville program.

Luckow said, arrangements are being made to have University of Wisconsin college of agriculture specialists lead the discussions.

Women who are able to work four hours a day and who live in the area may contact Salzman about the position. Uniforms are furnished and the women are paid $1.35 an hour, Salzman said.

New Lie Test Ordered for Illinois Man

Ex-Convict's Story of Murder Doesn't Add Up, Say Officials

Springfield, Ill. —P—Another lie test has been ordered for a former convict who told police he killed a man last October—a story he related a few hours after another man went on trial for the crime.

Sheriff Virgil Ball of Fulton county last night termed "inconclusive" a first lie test given Arthur McCulley.

"There are many discrepancies—his story doesn't add up," Ball said after the test.

McCulley, sentenced in 1955 to penitentiary, was held as a parole violator, Ball said.

Meanwhile, the trial of Edgar L. (Mickey) Suydan, 39, continued in Lewiston, Ill. Suydan is accused of shooting Raymond Bowser, 39, last October in the Canton, Ill., home of McCulley's former wife.

Suydan and Bowser both sought Mrs. McCulley's affection, authorities said.

A few hours after Suydan's trial began yesterday, McCulley told police in Peoria, Ill., that he drove to his former wife's home intending to kill Suydan but shot and killed Bowser by mistake.

Fund Tally At $530,708, Returns Show

Leaders Still Worried About Campaign, Say
More Work Needed

Additional returns in the $700,000 Appleton Memorial hospital completion fund campaign this noon were tallied at $27,850 to bring totals collected to date to $530,708.

Although contributions were not as substantial as in previous weeks, today's total brought the figure up to 76 percent of the goal. Reports were presented during a meeting this noon at the Conway hotel.

A breakdown shows the hospital family division reporting $4,000 for a total of $71,850, the commercial national division reporting $120 for a total of $13,540, the commercial local division reporting $2,835 for a total of $4,135, the special gifts division reporting $4,495 for a total of $8,970, industrial division reporting $6,320 for a total of $281,320, the advance gifts division reporting $8,775 for a total of $146,753, clubs and organizations, $405 for a total of $4,150.

Indicates Concern
General Chairman Carl Schroeder has reported concern over the results and has asked leaders to spend at least one full day a week on the campaign from now to its finish. It was pointed out there are only 10 days left to raise the remainder and Schroeder said there would be no extension.

The chief reason for concern, the chairman explained, is that many potential contributors have not been contacted. He has asked that all subscription cards not yet reported be turned in to they can be distributed to workers who will solicit.

The final report luncheon is scheduled for next Thursday noon at the Conway hotel.

Mercury Hits 12-Year Low in Seoul, Korea

Seoul.—The mercury hit a 12-year low in Seoul today and the weather bureau said the cold wave would continue over South Korea for several more days.

The temperature in the capital was just below zero, the lowest since 2.2 degrees below zero was recorded in 1945.

One South Korean army outpost in the mountains on the northeast frontier reported the temperature dropped there to 22 below zero.

Portrait of Princess Gets Press Fanfare, Critical Boos

London.—The British press gave a big fanfare today to a new portrait of Princess Margaret — looking a little like the Mona Lisa — and a chorus of mild critical boos for the Italian artist, Pietro Annigoni.

Annigoni's impression of the queen's younger sister was the product of 21 sittings, and reportedly of a good deal of give and take between artist and model.

The end product shows the royal beauty looking somewhat noncommittal in a high-waisted gown with a demure neckline, a dark taffeta stole around her shoulders.

Cedra Osborne, Annigoni's secretary, said her boss had some difficulty capturing the Margaret look and destroyed his original canvas after six sittings. Miss Osborne said the princess was not entirely satisfied with the finished portrait and had Annigoni paint out a "vagrant strand of hair and a small bow on the neckline of the dress."

For London Home
Annigoni had previously painted portraits of Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. The portrait of Margaret was commissioned by Queen Mother Elizabeth for their London home.

Clarence house.
"Annigoni's obvious gift is that he can make his sitters look like sisters of the Mona Lisa — when their looks give him half a chance," wrote critic Pierre Jeannerat of the Daily Mail.

Jeannerat said the artist did a good job on Margaret's head but "I cannot say the same of the rest, which suffers from Annigoni's frequent shortcomings."

Terence Mullaly of the Daily Telegraph commented: "Much has been written about his powers as a craftsman. Yet in the case of this portrait lovers of detail will be as disappointed as those who love paint for its own qualities."

"One can only hope future generations will not be tempted either to judge Princess Margaret or 20th century painting in England from this portrait."

Newly Elected Bank President Learns Work Hazards Early

Trenton, Ky.—It didn't take long for Pat McCuiston to learn one of the hazards of the banking profession.

He was elected president of the Planters bank of Trenton Tuesday. Yesterday, a bandit held up the bank and escaped with $3,687.

The 40-year-old McCuiston had never been in the banking business until yesterday. Two men are held on federal charges in connection with the holdup.

Catholics Seek Change in Means Of Aid Handouts

Milwaukee.—The executive committee of the National Roman Catholic Rural Life conference Wednesday called for a change in foreign aid laws to permit agencies distributing food abroad to require "a certain amount of work" in exchange in non-emergency cases.

Such a change would "preserve the dignity of man," said a spokesman for the 30-member committee.

Modification of Public Law 480 would accomplish three things, according to the Rev. Edward O'Rourke of Champagne, Ill. He listed the gains as:

Get food to people in need. Improve conditions through the projects upon which they would work.

Jet Trainers Collide; Five Persons Killed

Nottingham, England.—Two RAF Vampire jet trainers collided 9,000 feet over this industrial city today, killing four airmen and a woman factory worker. Two RAF men, a pilot and a student, died in each plane. The woman was killed when part of one of the broken jets crashed through the roof of New York, had agreed to work to 10 days in the Soviet change their content.

$7,100 Settles 3 Loan Suits

Contractor's Claims Settled During Trial
In Municipal Court

A complex of three suits for alleged debts was settled for $7,100 Wednesday in municipal court during trial of two of the suits before Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

Floyd Acheson, 2407 N. Richmond street, a contractor, claimed that Earl and Irene Winters, 324 W. Taylor street, owed him $4,000 loaned in June of 1955 and $7,669 for board and room, purchase of a lot and work on the W. Taylor home between April, 1959, and April, 1956.

A third suit attempting to foreclose on a 10-acre site in the town of Menasha was pending in Winnebago county.

Acheson agreed to drop the three actions in return for $7,100 to be paid within 10 days.

Acheson alleged that Winters borrowed $4,000 and orally promised to issue a note and a mortgage on the town of Menasha property. No note or mortgage was issued and no payment ever made, Acheson's suit charged.

Board, Room
Acheson also charged that he furnished board and room for the couple at $50 a week, rent at $75 a month and paid for the W. Taylor lot and work on the home.

Winter said that some of the loan, board and room and work on the W. Taylor property was in payment for work Winter did at a low wage and no overtime rate. Winter maintained that the down payment and first installment paid on property was compensation to him, also on an oral basis.

Confidential, Whisper Magazines Pay $10,000 In Fines to Close Case

Los Angeles.—The door has closed on the Confidential magazine case in Los Angeles courts.

The closure was made Wednesday when Confidential and its sister publication, Whisper magazine, each paid $5,000 fines, imposed last Dec. 18.

The publications were convicted of conspiracy to publish Elizabeth Taylor, are off for a while. Other defendants were cleared.

Att. Gen. Edmund G. Brown announced that the magazines' their plane left for London, that project for the advanced re-when part of one of the broken publisher, Robert Harrison, he and his wife would spend a search projects agency which his chief, Secretary McElroy, only explanation, "I like to see my name in the papers."

Railway Names George Leahy to Executive Post

George J. Leahy, former chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Litchfield and Madison Railway company, has been appointed executive consultant for the Chicago and North Western Railway company.

The Litchfield and Madison railway ceased to exist as a separate railway corporation Jan. 2, when it was merged into the North Western.

Leahy had been chairman of the board for the Litchfield and Madison for 11 years. He entered railroad service in 1909 as a "call boy" on the Milwaukee Road, serving in later years as telegraph operator, switchman, brakeman, station agent and train dispatcher.

During World war I he was granted a leave of absence from the railroad for 18 months to serve as telegraph secretary to Newton D. Baker, then secretary of war, and also to head the war department telegraph office.

Proxmire Proposes Research Plant in Northern Wisconsin

Washington.—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) Wednesday night proposed the establishment in northern Wisconsin of a research pilot plant to manufacture newsprint from low-grade hard woods.

"Commercial utilization of this wood, which now is mostly wasted, would be a tremendous economic boon to the state," the senator told a meeting of the Washington section of the Society of American Foresters.

He said he plans to introduce a bill to authorize a combined commercial and research pilot plant in the northern part of the state.

Proxmire added that the low-grade hard woods cover millions of acres in Wisconsin and said that research conducted by the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison demonstrate a potential market for the woods.

Todd, Taylor Plan to Visit Soviet Union

New York.—Showman Mike Todd and his actress wife, Elizabeth Taylor, are off for a visit to Moscow.

Todd told newsmen at Idlewild airport yesterday, before their plane left for London, that project for the advanced re-he and his wife would spend a search projects agency which his chief, Secretary McElroy, only explanation, "I like to see my name in the papers."

Homemade Flowers Have Pretty Crepe Paper Petals

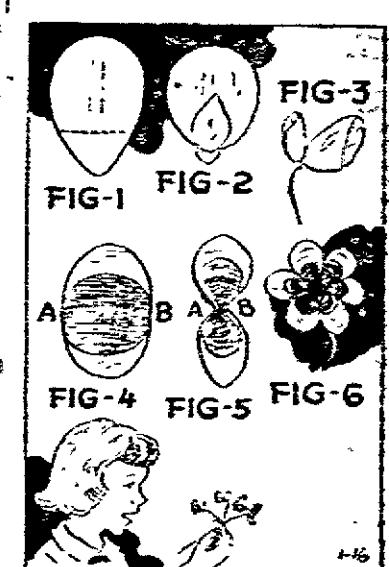

BY CAPPY DICK

Crepe paper flowers are fun to make. A colorful bouquet of them will be a welcome gift for Mother.

Try sweet peas first. Use any color of crepe paper you prefer — white, pink, purple and some shades of red. Two petals are needed. Cut both at once to the shape shown in Figure 1 where the vertical lines show how the grain of the paper must run.

Holding the two petals together, loop the end of an eight-inch wire over them where the dotted line appears in Figure 1. Twist the wire tightly and turn up the pointed ends as in Figure 2. Bend the larger part of the petals so they appear as in Figure 3, completing the sweet pea.

The other flower in the illustration (Figure 6) is similar to a primrose, but is two-toned in color. The colors may be purple and orange, blue and yellow or red and white. Cut three ovals shaped as in Figure 4, with the paper's grain running from side to side. These ovals should be all of the same color. Cut three circles of a different color ("A-B")

Sweet pea and primrose patterns.

In Figure 4. Their diameter should be the same as the width of the ovals.

Place a circle on each oval as in Figure 4, pick up the pair and bring the "A" and "B" sides together without creasing the paper. The packet will now look like Figure 5. Gather the two remaining ovals and circles together the same way, forming a little bundle. Loop a fine wire around the packet at the center, twisting it tightly so the papers are crushed together at the middle. With your fingers gently spread the petals open to produce a flower like that in Figure 6.

U. S. to Go Into 'Space Business'

Washington.—Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles said today the military "is going into the space business" with a new agency authorized to plan such things as space ships.

Quarles spoke with newsmen as a senior member of the senate-house atomic energy committee. Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) called for a "Manhattan project," if necessary, to develop a space vehicle. The World War II Manhattan project developed the atomic bomb.

Quarles, saying he was not going to get into the realm of science fiction, declined to say in so many words that the defense department is planning "a space ship."

"It depends on what you mean," he said. "If you mean anything that goes into space, certainly we will get into that. We are going into the space business."

And he said a space ship design would be an appropriate sign for the advanced re-projects agency which his chief, Secretary McElroy, only explanation, "I like to see my name in the papers."

Tells Tall Tale on Robbery to Impress Girls, for Publicity

Chicago.—Willie Lewis is a 52-year-old glass blower who likes to "impress the girls" and "see my name in the papers."

That's why he inflated a $500 robbery into an eyebrow-lifting $21,000 job, he told police yesterday.

Lewis, a Negro, had reportedly that two men forced their way into his south side apartment, slashed open his money-satchel and escaped with $21,000 he had hidden because he didn't trust banks.

He said he won the money gambling in the army in 1945, but under questioning said he had actually saved only $500 — "I like publicity," was his only explanation. "I like to see my name in the papers."

Bargains Very Scarce On Produce Counters

It'll be a difficult time the family shopper will have if she's looking for produce bargains. Some are available, to be sure, but prices on most fruits and vegetables have been sent soaring by the second Florida freeze.

Citrus fruits, normally one of the best buys for this time of the year, are extremely high in most cases and salad vegetables are high. The prices probably will continue on those levels for the remainder of the winter, market men predict.

A turn through Appleton food stores shows best fruit buys are apples and D'Anjou pears. The latter are tagged at about 20 cents, a pound while a sampling of apple prices shows Macintosh at 18 cents, Rome Beauties at 18 cents, Winesaps at 15 cents and Delicious at 15 cents a pound.

Citrus Prices

Grapefruit are six for 39 cents, oranges range upward from 49 cents a dozen and tangerines, normally on their way out about now, are 49 cents a dozen. The best buy in oranges are California navel at 49 cents a dozen.

Best vegetable buys are Wisconsin potatoes at 10 pounds for 43 cents, Idaho potatoes at 10 pounds for 65 cents, broccoli at 29 cents a bunch, brussels sprouts at 25 cents a box and cauliflower at 29 cents for a medium to large head.

Very high are celery at 33 cents a bunch, cucumbers at 23 cents apiece, radishes at 10 cents a bunch, green pepper at 19 cents apiece and green cabbage at 10 cents a pound. Moderately priced are carrots at 19 cents a bunch and lettuce at 15 cents a head.

The meat situation hasn't changed in weeks and, chances are, it won't for awhile. Holding an undisputed lead in the bargain race are frying chickens at about 35 cents a pound. Poor seconds are picnic hams at 39 cents, ham roasts at 55 cents and veal roast at 59 cents a pound.

Other Cuts

Pork remains high with roasts ranging upward from about 63 cents, steak from 55 to 59 cents, spareribs from 45 to 49 cents and chops from 85 to 89 cents a pound.

Some livestock men are saying the grain-fed steers which yield better grades of beef will drop 10 to 15 per cent by April. Any general beef decline, however, is not expected.

The best beef buy, as it usually is, is chuck which this week ranges up to 45 cents a pound. A surmount from WFRV every afternoon. This teenage pop music show, in just a few short months has taken away from our local radio stations the power to make or break a record.

- Jo-Ann, Playmates
- Ballad of a Teenage Queen, Johnny Cash
- I Beg of You, Elvis Presley
- Little Gypsy, Ames Bros.
- Shake a Hand, Mike Pedicin Quintet
- Lead Me Your Comb, Carl Perkins

Short Shorts, Royal Teens Capitol released about twenty new albums this month, the best of which is "Come Fly With Me" by Frank Sinatra. The LP features such songs as "Around the World", "Moonlight in Vermont", "On the Road to Mandalay" and the title song "Come Fly With Me". Needless to say, it has already turned up as Bobby Robinson's album of the week on his nightly show on WYAM.

It's amazing the way a TV show can take over as the determining factor of a hit record. I have reference to Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" which is beamed from the tower of WFRV every afternoon. This teenage pop music show, in just a few short months has taken away from our local radio stations the power to make or break a record.

Best news of the week centers around eggs. They've dropped a few cents again this week and are considered good buys with a dozen grade A large pegged at about 55 cents.

Mid-Winter Parties Scheduled by BDM, North Shore Clubs

Winter parties have been slated by two Fox Cities golf clubs as their first post-holiday activities.

Butte des Morts Golf club has selected "Winter Windup" as the theme for its dinner dance, which will be held Saturday, Jan. 25, at the clubhouse. It will be the final dance on the club's 1957-58 social calendar.

A cocktail hour is planned for 6:30 to 8 o'clock and a smorgasbord dinner will be served at 8 o'clock, preceding dancing from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Committee members for the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Honkamp, Mr. and Mrs. L. J.

Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Garvey, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Engler, all of Appleton, Dr. and Mrs. John R. Nebel, Menasha, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lutz, Oshkosh.

"Winter Wonderland" will be the theme of the North Shore Golf club informal dance this Saturday night at the clubhouse. The event is a traditional mid-winter activity of the club.

There will be a cocktail hour from 7:30 to 8:30 and dinner will be served from 8:30 to 9:30. An orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Olson, Appleton, are serving as dance chairmen.

North Shore also has announced plans for its annual sleighride party for the children of members. It will be held Saturday, Jan. 25, and will be for children up to 12 years old. Each child will be permitted to bring one guest.

Rides on the club grounds will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and a lunch will be served at noon.

In case there is no snow for the rides, there will be games and movies inside the clubhouse. Reservations will close at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, Jan. 24.

6th Campus Recital to be Given Friday

Sixth recital in the regular Friday afternoon series by students at the Lawrence conservatory will be given in Memorial chapel at 3:30 Friday afternoon.

Homemakers Discuss Nutrition Needs of Lunch Box Carriers

The nutrition needs of school children and working people for well balanced, packed lunches is being emphasized by county homemakers during January. The club groups are also studying party menus which stress easily prepared foods which contribute to health and are low in calorie content.

At earlier center meetings, Mrs. Helen Walker, county

ed lunch must furnish about one-third of the dietary requirements used daily by the average person. Variety in packed lunches, as well as the necessary amount of carbohydrates, fats and proteins, was considered essential in planning.

Among recipe suggestions to tempt the appetite of the lunch

box carrier, was a quick banana bread taken from "Favorite

Recipes from America's Dairyland." The fruity taste of the bread is accented by crunchy

Bake in greased loaf pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 to 55 minutes.

Children will enjoy peanut cookies tucked into lunch boxes for a surprise. Nutritious cereal flakes are included among ingredients of the easily prepared sweet.

Peanut Cookies

1 1/2 cups sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup shortening

1 1/2 cups brown sugar (firmly packed)

1 egg, unbeaten

1 cup milk

1 1/2 cups 40 per cent bran flakes, raisin bran or grape nut flakes

1 cup chopped salted peanuts

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda and salt and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well.

Add flour alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition.

Add flakes and peanuts and blend. Drop from teaspoon on to greased baking sheet; flatten slightly with fork. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 8 minutes or until done.

Lunch box ideas and party menus will be discussed by several homemaker clubs meeting in January. The Triple Home-cream butter and sugar, add makers club will meet Tuesday

eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients evening, Jan. 21, at the home alternately with combined milk of Mrs. Wesley Ring, route 2, and bananas. Add nut meats. Appleton. Mrs. Roland Abitz and Mrs. Kermit Meltz will present the project.

A potluck supper will replace the project lesson when the Jolly Workers club meets at 6:30 Wednesday evening, Jan. 22, at the residence of Mrs. Walter Woods, Highway 41. Mrs. John Baum, route 2, Appleton, will aid the hostess.

Mrs. De Forest Meyers, Appleton, and Mrs. Clarence Per-ronto, Greenville, will lead the discussion when Mrs. George

Logans, 422 S. State street, Appleton, entertains the Badger

Belles club Tuesday, Jan. 21.

Members of No Idle Hours club will assemble at the home of Mrs. Ray Remmel, Jr., route 1, Appleton, Monday night, Jan.

20. Mrs. Ray Steward and Mrs. Ben Schumacher, both of route

1, Appleton, will be project leaders.

Mrs. Laverne Helsel, Greenville, and Mrs. Henry Bloomer, route 1, Appleton, will present the program for the Greenville

Homemakers club Tuesday night, Jan. 21, when the women

Lawrentians Marry in Illinois Nuptials

St. Lambert Catholic church, Skokie, Ill., was the site of the wedding, Dec. 21, of Miss Kay Ann Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kaufman, Skokie, and Theodore A. Beranis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Beranis, Racine.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Deborah Kaufman served her sister as maid of honor and David Beranis was his brother's best man.

A dinner and reception followed the ceremony at the Kaufman home. Mr. Beranis, a 1957 graduate of Lawrence college, a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, and president of his senior class, now is stationed with the armed forces at Fort Hood, Texas.

Young Mrs. Beranis, a member of Delta Gamma, is continuing her studies as an art major at Lawrence college.

Appleton relatives at the wedding were the bride's grand-

Tell Recent Marriage

Miss Arlene Van Bostel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Van Bostel, 320 E. North street, Little Chute, became the bride of Sylvester Grissman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grissman, 227 E. Tenth street, Kaukauna, Jan. 6 at St. John Catholic church, Little Chute. The Rev. Donald Stoegbauer performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Robert Boots served as matron of honor and Mr. Boots was best man.

A breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Later the young couple greeted guests at a dinner held by the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boots, 321 S. Pine street, Kimberly.

Young Mrs. Grissman attended St. John Catholic school, Little Chute. The bridegroom is stationed with the army at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Delphian Club to Hear Work of 'Verdi'

The Delphian club will meet at 1:45 Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Russell Berggren, 324 E. Pershing street. Mrs. William Strassburger will present a program on "Verdi," the noted composer.

New York — The music critics generally agree that "Vanessa," a full-length opera written by an American and given its world premiere last night at the Metropolitan Opera house has the beauty, style and melodic depth to make it a major operatic work.

It was the first American opera produced by the Met in 11 years. The music was written by Samuel Barber. His close friend, Gian-Carlo Menotti provided the libretto.

W. G. Rogers of the Associated Press called the opera "the work of two highly gifted men... they were never bad; when they were good... they were very, very good."

John Chapman of the New York Daily News praised the production as a work of considerable vitality both musically and dramatically.

Howard Taubman of the New York Times said "Vanessa... is professional. It has atmosphere. It builds to a moving climax."

Paul Henry Lang of the New York Herald Tribune termed the new work "a major contribution to the international operatic repertoire."

"Merits Place in Sun" Robert Coleman of the New York Mirror said the opera "spells a new profession to the American opera. It is not red by the legislation and nagging to knock any of the national security committees."

terworks out of repertoire, but has learned to write for the lyric theater with perception and impact."

Eleanor Steber sang the title role. Nicholas Gedda was the male lead. Others in the outstanding cast were Rosalind Elias, Regina Resnik, Giorgio Tozzi, George Cehanovsky and Robert Nagy.

Dimitri Mitropoulos conducted. Cecil Beaton designed the sets and costumes. Menotti also staged the production.

The period of the opera is in 1905. Belafutiful Vanessa (Miss Steber) pines for her missing lover, Anatol (Gedda). Anatol's son of the same name (and also sung by Gedda) comes to see what his father's glamorous mistress is like and falls in love with her himself after a brief romance with her niece, Erika (Miss Elias).

Miss Resnik is the old baroness. Tozzi the old doctor. Cehanovsky a major-domo, and Nagy portrays a footman.

"Starts Disappointingly" Taubman notes that the opera "starts disappointingly," but by the time he has reached the last act, Mr. Barber

Beauty Broken Hair Ends Ruins Coiff Effect

By Marian Matthews

Almost all of us who have short hair know that ends can become broken and most unattractive in appearance for any number of reasons.

You can remedy this in time but the quickest way to improve such a problem is with a little hairdressing and conditioner—nongreasy of course.

Hair that has been abused from pinning up incorrectly or too often can break off and show a rather stubby end. Overbleaching that damages hair can present a similar problem too. Usually the best way out of this is to have ends cut and then eliminate the cause.

Brushing the hair every night helps revitalize the scalp and in turn improve the quality of the hair. It takes a long time usually to recoup the natural beauty of hair once it is lost. Hot oil treatments before every shampoo will help soften and condition hair. Let the oil remain on hair for at least 20 minutes. For an extremely bad case leave oil on for a few hours. Wash out thoroughly using a caustic-type shampoo for two or three shampoos.

Massage the scalp each day too if you want to improve the health of scalp and hair. Use fingertips in small circular motions working up from the base of the neck to back of ears and to forehead. Do this in the morning when you get ready for the day. Then add a little hairdressing to tresses and comb into place. At night when you have more time you should brush hair. Bend over from hips to promote the flow of blood to the scalp as you yield the brush.

Husband's Fed Up With Wife Being Perennial School Girl

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: My wife is a school girl in her 40's. She's been going to one school or another ever since we met. She's not interested in graduation. The idea is to stay in school.

We have two teenage children. My wife has always been a first-rate mother and housekeeper. But I'm fed to the teeth with her being a student all through life.

We have thousands of dollars worth of books in the house, on every subject imaginable. Whenever I ask her what she would like for a gift, she hands me a list of books and tells me to select a few. I've been competing with books for 20 years and it's not flattering. May I hear from you on this subject?

—B.E.

You could have worse competition than books. Your wife's interests are high-level and admirable. Be thankful she's not taken up with boy-friends, bottles, barbiturates, bridge games or back-fence gossip.

that brush eight hours a day. —HOOT OWL HELEN

DEAR ANN: I have a dilly of a problem—a wealthy aunt. I suppose there's one like her in every family.

Wherever she goes there's trouble. She gave us their old car (and I do mean old—a '35 Dodge) because it was her husband's dying wish. We've never heard the end of it.

Then she offered to help me out with a $200 loan to pay a hospital bill. She insisted we go to the bank together. While in the bank, she raised her voice, housekeeper. But I'm fed to the teeth with her being a student all through life.

Recently she called me on the phone (we have an 11-party line) and began to enumerate the things she had done for me in the last 20 years. I got so mad I actually became ill. My doctor gave me orders to stay away from my aunt or I would have a breakdown.

Now the entire family is on my neck saying the old lady needs kindness. They quote endless biblical passages about forgiving. But I just can't stand her and that's all there is to it. What do you advise?—MRS. A. M.

Your relatives can theorize all they like but they can't tell you how to feel. Your doctor has the right idea. If your aunt is bad news, stay away from her. And this means when you need something, too, Madame. So long as you accept her kindness, she'll continue to clobber you but good. This is her price.

In Good Taste Switch on Telephone Suggested

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: After her husband's death, my sister-in-law came to live with my husband and me. We have always been very good friends and that is what makes my problem so difficult. Lately I have discovered that she has been listening in on all my calls on the extension telephone. Many of these calls are of a personal nature. I am really very much upset over this and am appealing to you for help. Can you tell me how to handle this very difficult situation without causing a rift?

Answer: I suggest that you have a switch put on the telephone you habitually use that will make it possible to cut off the extension telephone whenever you wish to.

Ballet Slippers

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm wearing a long white satin dress and a veil at my forthcoming wedding. As my fiancé is not a very tall person—in fact, he is just about my height—I would like to wear satin ballet slippers instead of the usual high-heeled ones. I'd appreciate your advice.

Answer: You would make a far better appearance if you wore the ballet, or flat heels. This is not a new idea. Countless brides who have felt that they were too tall have done just this.

Conversation

Dear Mrs. Post: I've been told that when three people are having a conversation it is very impolite for two of them to discuss someone, or something the third one is not familiar with. Is this true? Wouldn't this rather limit conversation?

Answer: A few comments would be entirely permissible. But for two people to discuss something for any length of time barring the third person, would certainly be very impolite, without at least an attempt to give some clue to the listener.

Startling New Furniture Serves Beyond Call of Duty

Furniture, too, goes into the spread so could work out a color scheme to go with the draperies if you think they are suitable. What colors do you suggest, and should the draperies be cut short to go on windows with sills that are high from the floor?

If the draperies are not too heavy, they might be remade into tier curtains or cafe curtains with or without ruffles at the window tops. Then there would probably be fabric left so the print needn't be for windows only. Using it elsewhere in the room, too, will make an improvement in the scheme if only for big ruffled pillows on the bed and perhaps a chair or bench cushion. With white for the walls and bedspread, the room will be attractive, especially if there can be more of the cherry red in velvet pillows and fluffy scatter rugs.

Mrs. M. W. D. "I dread choosing a new sofa because I made a bad choice last time. Our present gray sofa is too long for the wall where it belongs and hasn't worn well. I'd also like more color in the room and has gray walls, two turquoise chairs and a green chair. A gray rug, blond tables and white curtains with a gold thread. Will you help me?"

Choose the sofa from those for which fabric covers can be ordered. Find the style, quality, size and that's most suitable, Summers and Laura Loose, might be one of the new subtle John Knutti, contract bridge stripes in turquoise and green. and Ray Luedtke, auction (Copyright, 1958)

Our Children

Student Develops Individually, Unnecessary to be Envious

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Our son is a good boy, intelligent and friendly. His school marks are average, that is, none below B but with few A's. He gets A in social attitudes, for example but he gets B or even C at times, in mathematics. The board is opening a new science department in the school and only the boys who have A consistently in math and physics and chemistry, the scientific studies, are accepted for those classes.

"Now our son who has always been happy in school has changed completely. He feels he has been let down, made to show inferiority and does not want to go to school at all. We think this is not right. In democratic America shouldn't all be treated alike? Why should one boy be offered opportunities another is denied? This is making snobs and causing heartaches. It should not be allowed in a democratic country."

It's our turn to ask a few questions. Would a parent whose son was selected for such a class, or for any school honor, object? Would jealousy and envy move to take from a child a privilege his ability and industry gained for him?

Accept Facts

Isn't it but common sense to accept the facts of life, the individual's gifts, abilities, handicaps, as they appear? Isn't it a fact that a democracy such as ours grants the individual's opportunity to develop what powers he possesses within himself? Is not that the very reason for public school education?

It is unwise to allow a child to think that the life about him is to be cut down to his size. It never will be and the sooner he learns to accept his own size and make it count its full value, the better off and the happier he will be. If he has no talent for mathematics, has no feeling for the sciences, why not study himself to learn what ability he has and cultivate it and instead of grudging another his talents make the most of his own.

It is natural for parents to want their children to be happy. Happiness is not always with any of us. If one has gleams of it now and then one is fortunate.

The wise and kind parent explains to the child who has not been tapped that he is still the same child as before he was "slighted" and he cannot be slighted if he does not feel that way. He also explains to him that he is an individual, that there is none other like him; that he has his own peculiar treasure of personality and it is up to him to cultivate his own, and cease from envy, littleness and grudging and do all he can to be helpful.

Faith Guild Elects New Officers

Newly elected officers of the Faith Lutheran Ladies guild are Mrs. Allen Kline, president for a 1-year term; Mrs. Daniel Knowlton, vice president; Mrs. David Duffey, secretary and Mrs. Elroy Schultz, treasurer.

The officers were elected when the guild met Monday night in the parish parlors, New area chairman named at that time were Mrs. Martin Koepke, social; Mrs. Leland Hoh, membership, with Mrs. Robert Greenwalt as alternate chairman; Mrs. Harvey Metz, altar; Mrs. Oscar Reinke, Christian knowledge and Mrs. Roland Borchardt, mission.

The films "A Problem" and "A Dream" were shown, with Mrs. Schirm as narrator.

Chilton Couple Engaged to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schoen, Chilton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judy Ann, to Marvin Woelfel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Woelfel, Chilton.

Miss Schoen, a graduate of Chilton High school, is employed in the office of Knauf and Tesch company, Chilton. Her fiancé, also a graduate of Chilton High school, is employed at the Western Industries plant, Chilton.

Wedding plans have not been made.

'Unity Octave' Observed by Church Society

"Chair of Unity Octave," which is observed by the Catholic church from Jan. 18 to 25, was the program theme for the meeting of St. Joseph Christian Mothers society Tuesday night in the parish school.

Daily intentions for prayers during the octave, which begins on the feast of St. Peter's chair in Rome and ends on the feast of St. Paul's conversion, were portrayed as part of a bulletin board display which featured a statue of St. Peter on his throne. The display was arranged by Mrs. Donald Grogan and Mrs. George Panke.

The Rev. Kenneth Barnes, OFM, Cap., explained the octave observance, which will mark its 50th anniversary in 1958.

Card winners for the evening's social hour were the following: Ed Glasnap, George Summers and Laura Loose, contract bridge; Cyril Goffin and Ray Luedtke, auction bridge.

DEAR ANN: May I say a word in regard to the women whose husband is a house painter? I ought to know a little about this subject, because I've been married to one for almost 27 years.

All I can say, Madame, is don't worry about your husband frittering away his valuable time with the ladies in the house. No contractor is going to pay $3.10 an hour (local scale in our town) to a painter who spends his time playing games. The boss knows how long it takes to paint a given number of rooms. In fact, he has it down to a science.

If your husband brings home a full paycheck every Friday you may be sure he's plugging along, sanding and swinging

Request for $3,000 Denied By Aldermen

Council Wants More Information on How Money Is to be Spent

Neenah — The council Wednesday night declined to grant $3,000 to the school board "for architectural and engineering services in the study of junior high school needs" without a clearer understanding of how the money is to be spent.

Ald. Warren Sanders, chairman of the finance committee, moved that his committee ask the board for a clearer explanation of why the money is needed. A special citizen's committee is studying junior high school education needs and has already suggested alternatives of building a new school, remodeling the Kimberly school and building a second school, and abandoning the Kimberly school completely.

Sanders said that the 1958 budget was many hours in the making and was trimmed as far as possible to keep the tax rate at $48 per $1,000. To approve the school board's request would mean raising the money somehow, and he said he could not see from where it could come.

He said that for the Kimberly building to be remodeled into city office space would be too expensive and that the building itself is not adapted for office use, adding that the present city hall is serviceable for many years to come. He was referring to repeated suggestions that the Kimberly building might be made to serve as a city hall, thus forcing a completely new junior high school. This idea was originally suggested by Mayor George E. Sande last summer.

Three Speeders Pay $10 Fines

Neenah — Ronald Wood, 22, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty of speeding before Police Justice Edmund P. Arpin this morning and was fined $10 and costs. He was arrested at 12:25 Wednesday morning for speeding 42 miles per hour on S. Commercial street between Wisconsin and Winneconne avenues.

Two other speeders forfeited bonds of $14.20 to Neenah police. James P. Borchers, 36, noon for speeding 43 miles per hour on E. Wisconsin avenue Wednesday morning for speeding 40 miles per hour on S. side park.

Opposition Raised To Rezoning of Part Of South Commercial

Action Held Over Until Feb. 5 After Home, Filling Station Owners Express Disapproval

Neenah — The question of rezoning part of S. Commercial street into commercial district was held over until Feb. 5 after four persons voiced their disapproval at a public hearing Wednesday night.

The plans commission had recommended that both sides of commercial street between Franklin street and the Chicago and North Western railway tracks be rezoned from residential and local shopping to commercial. The recommendation arose from a petition from Miss Olla M. Perry, 415 S. Commercial street, for rezoning of her property on the southwest corner of Commercial and Caroline streets to commercial. Ald. Ray Murphy said the plans commission was reluctant to recommend such spot zoning and that the entire area should be rezoned if any change is to be made.

Alfred W. Ginnow, Courtney Commercial street between Wisconsin and Winneconne avenues.

court, partner in Ginnow's Service station at 501 S. Commercial said that such rezoning would open the way to a wholesale filling station building project. Ginnow said that the council should encourage businesses as are needed in the area and not open the way to more filling stations. "You don't want a ghost town of filling stations," he said.

Arlin Lafin, 773 Maple street, owner of the service station at 314 S. Commercial street, said that he was against the rezoning because undesirable businesses might come into the area.

Harold C. Gray, 433 S. Commercial street, said that such business as pool halls and bowling alleys should not be located near the Kimberly Junior High school because of their effect on the children. He said that in 10 or 20 years it might be necessary to rezone the area but that council was "jumping the gun by rezoning at this time."

Labor Council Gets New Name At Dinner for Union Presidents

Menasha — A new charter and a new name were received Wednesday night by the Neenah-Menasha Trades and Labor Council which now will be known as the Neenah-Menasha, Wisconsin, Labor Council. The members today is a very important part of that program. Only through educational programs can the union members understand how to negotiate better contracts fairly, he mentioned.

Claude Cash, labor council president, stressed that the local unions should participate in the functions of their good unions and churches. We shall be able to keep communism out of America," DeBroux stressed. He asked those unions making contributions to make their checks payable to the March of Dimes and send them to the labor council which will turn all the collections over to the drive chairman at the end of the month.

Presentation of the charter was made by Charles Heymanns, director of Region 12 of the AFL-CIO, who stated he had been in this vicinity to help local unions in organizing for the last 20 years.

"A good union member is a good voter which is one of the great privileges we enjoy in America today," he declared. "Unions operating under the American Federation of Labor have kept their hands clean and always shall if we keep our belief in living up to the true American principles that our forefathers gave to us." Leon DeBroux, an AFL-CIO organizer, spoke on the committee on political education, pointing out education of union members today is very important. The members today is a very important part of that program. Only through educational programs can the union members understand how to negotiate better contracts fairly, he mentioned.

Robert Ozzanne, director of the University of Wisconsin school for workers, reported on the many courses the university offers in adult education. Also speaking to the group was the Rev. Joseph A. Beck, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, who spoke on "Unions and the Church." He asked whether laboring people can survive today without Christian principals.

"Too many people today are not willing to take their share of the responsibility," he said. Turn To Page B6, Col. 6

Stolen Truck Found

Oshkosh — A truck owned by the Weigand Lumber company of the town of Menasha was reported stolen at 8:26 Wednesday night by Henry Weigand, 337 Grandview avenue, Menasha. About 9 o'clock that evening the Outagamie county sheriff's department reported the truck was found abandoned in a ditch along Highway 10 near the Midway road. Two boys were seen leaving the scene.

OK Pay Raise for Mayor, Aldermen

Executive to Get $7,000, Council Members $900; Cite Long Hours

Neenah — The annual salaries of the mayor and aldermen were raised to $7,000 and $900 respectively by a unanimous council vote Wednesday evening.

These pay increases probably will be followed by increases to other city employees when the full salary ordinance is passed, probably in February. All raises will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

The mayor's salary for the seven months Neenah has had a full-time chief executive has been $6,000 annually, or $500 per month. The aldermen formerly received $720 annually, or $60 per month.

The mayor also receives an annual expense account of $1,000 for office, travel and convention expenses. The council has a general expense account of $4,300 for convention and other expenses, and for advertising required by law. Money was provided in the 1958 budget for the increased salaries. To Encourage Candidates The amount of time spent on the job and encouragement for qualified candidates were listed as the chief factors in recommending the increases by Ald. Warren Sanders, chairman of the finance committee. In behalf of the aldermen Sanders said that the numerous night committee meetings and homework justified the 25 per cent increase.

He said that all the raises for city employees had been in the planning stage for a number of weeks, but that the proposed salaries for mayor and aldermen were announced now so that declared candidates and others contemplating running in the April election would know what to expect. Sanders said that the higher salary might induce more qualified persons to run for public office.

Woman to Seek 1st Ward Post

Mrs. William Richey First of Sex to Run for Council in 28 Years

Neenah — The first woman to run for the city council in 28 years took out her nomination papers this morning.

Mrs. William Richey, 400 Congress street, will seek election as First ward alderman. The last woman to run was Helen K. Stuart, who won one alderman's council seat in 1930.

Mrs. Richey is a housewife, the mother of two children, aged 11 and 5. Her husband is a Neenah policeman.

Her announcement created a race for the First ward post-race between incumbents is in the Third ward, between Peter council election. John Helms, Fara and Ray Miller. In the 693 Congress place, announced Second, Fifth and Tenth wards his candidacy Wednesday. Both the races are between the in- new comers to the local political scene. In the First, Incumbent Warren Sanders, who represents the old First ward on the council and re-incumbents are running unopposed in the new First ward, has not declared his candidacy as yet.

Candidates

At the present time Mayor George E. Sande is the only one running for mayor. 17 persons have declared for aldermen. Only seven of them incumbents. One alderman will be selected on April 1 from each of the 10 new wards created by last year's redistricting. Supervisors Told to 'Teach Instead of Tell'

George Williams Speaks at Safety Council Meeting

Menasha — "Teach instead of tell" was the advice given by George Williams, safety engineer for Employers Mutual Insurance companies, at the fifth meeting of the Twin City Industrial Safety Council at Germania hall Wednesday night. Williams, who was guest speaker at the meeting, said there was a vast difference between teaching and telling. Every plant foreman should be a teacher, he emphasized.

In teaching those under him, the supervisor should follow four steps: "prepare, present, apply and test," Williams stated.

"First get the worker ready to learn by putting his mind at ease. Then explain his job step by step and slowly enough so he can comprehend," Williams explained.

"The next step is to let the worker do the work with you present to correct his mistakes." "Finally let him do the work himself with you acting as a supervisor."

Instill Incentive — Williams maintained foremen can bring out the best in the people working for them and can also instill incentive in the workers. He said it was the supervisor's job to make every worker his own safety supervisor.

"It's been proven that 70 per cent of the supervisors who fall in their jobs do not know how to handle people," the speaker stressed. "Only 30 per cent of those who fall lack the necessary know-how, he added.

It's the supervisor's job to find out why the workers act as they do, the Green Bay Vocational school instructor asserted. If a machine breaks down it will be torn apart to find out what's wrong with it. The same principle should be applied to an employee when he does something wrong.

"Cooperation from a worker can be expected only when he is treated fairly by the supervisor. Human relations are a significant part of every supervisor's job and a good foreman doesn't play favorites," Williams stressed.

If a foreman properly plans his own work he will have more time to help and watch over those under him, Williams stated. He advised the supervisors to take a little time out at the end of each day to plan the next day's work.

Sheep Breeders Plan Clinic at Stockyard

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau — Plans are developing for a sheep breeders clinic Jan. 26 at the Ripon stockyards for farmers from a 5-county area.

Lamb raising, marketing and special sheep management skills will be discussed. Winnebago county has about 170 sheep breeders.

Hardwood Driveway City to Accept N. John Street Land if Roadway Is Installed

Neenah — The council Wednesday night voted to accept the right-of-way of what would be N. John street from the Hardwood Products corporation, provided Hardwood build the street or pay for its construction.

The company has offered land for the street, to the city. The street would serve primarily as an entrance and exit to the company's parking lot, and would allow Hardwood traffic to flow onto Main street, alleviating the rush hour flow on N. Lake street.

The council referred to the health and welfare committee the proposal to rebuild 216 feet of the 316-foot railroad dock on the shore of Riverside park. The park commission, in making the proposal, said the entire construction would be paid for by an anonymous private donor if the city would enter into the necessary construction contracts. About 100 feet of the dock has already been renovated.

A Dinner and Program Were Held Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church honoring Marshall Hulbert, center, on his 20th anniversary as choir director. About 100 congregation members and present and former choir members attended the event at which he was presented with a gift and a painting of the church. From the left are Mrs. R. D. Young, chairman of the music committee, Mrs. Charles Schubert, who painted the water color, Hulbert, S. F. Shattuck, program chairman and John H. Wilterding, who presented the director with the gift. Referred to the public works committee was a petition and waiver for sewer and water-main work in part of the Gillingham plat. The area included is Gillingham road from Jay drive to Cecil street, Laurel court, Holley court, and Cecil street from Gillingham road to Meadow lane. About 110 lots are affected.

Thermostats to Cost $2,900 — A bid of $2,900 for thermostat controls in the city hall heating system was accepted. The bid, made by the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator company, includes installation of the necessary controls, but does not include the replacement of old valves in the present heating system.

The health and welfare committee was instructed to secure a permit for this operation. The clerk was authorized to be fabricated now and sheet advertise for the sale of two houses at 116 and 124 E. Columbus avenue, which are to be razed or removed from the premises to make room for the new police station.

The clerk was also authorized to advertise for bids for a new fire truck for the proposed southwest side fire station. An ordinance requiring the cost of fluorine for city water to be paid from water commission funds instead of general city funds was passed.

Before adjourning the council referred the report of the police justice for October and November to the city attorney for audit. Police Justice Edmund P. Arpin reported that $744.20 was taken in October and $594.65 in November in traffic fines, forfeitures and costs.

A beverage operator's license was granted to Robert Moss, 311 1/2 First street.

Dutch Uncles To Review Home Progress
Neenah — The Dutch Uncles club, formed to help build a home for the David Tovar family of Allenville, will meet at the Valley Inn at 7:30 tonight to review the progress on the home construction and plan for bid, made by the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator company. It is hoped to have Tovar and his family of 12 children in the house by February. The rough wiring and rough plumbing already are in place as well as the insulation and the furnace. The ductwork is being fabricated now and sheet

Entertain In Honor of Bride-Elect

Menasha — Several showers and parties have been given recently in honor of Miss Alice Rosenow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. C. Rosenow, 514 Riverway, and James George Rogers, West Allis, who will be married Saturday at St. Patrick Catholic church.

Mrs. William Clifford and her daughter Patricia are hostesses at a dinner and kitchen shower Tuesday evening at North Shore Golf club. About 14 guests were present and bridge was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Small, 315 Elm street, entertained at a Sunday evening dinner honoring the future bride. A linen shower was given recently in Milwaukee by Miss Geraldine Davis, Milwaukee, and Miss Carol Cyr, Menasha.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Groh, West Allis, entertained at a cocktail party for her brother and his fiancée early in January.

Decorate Walls With Mounted Collections

Neenah — Unusual wall decorations and conversation-pieces can be made by matting and framing favorite needlework, collections or keepsakes. A collage, a picture made of basted paper, can also be a collection of photographs, letters, jewels or fabrics of different textures mounted on a wooden panel, either with or without framing.

Collections of shells, button flies stamps coins or buttons show off well when mounted and framed, advises Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

A shadow box can display pieces of a glass collection or a different color or texture for is a good way for a three-dimensional interest.

Scout Leaders to Display Troop Handicraft Projects

Neenah — Neenah West Neighborhood Girl Scout leaders will bring samples of handicraft projects which their troops made during the holiday season to a neighborhood meeting at 7:30 tonight at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Leaders will swap project ideas.

Plans will be discussed for a Browne father-daughter banquet and for the Girl Scout banquet, scheduled for Feb. 11 at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Mrs. James Crust is serving as chairman of the Scout father-daughter event.

Girl Scout Troop 143 of Hoover school honored Mrs. James Anderson co-leader of the troop at a tea Tuesday afternoon at the school. A gift was presented to Mrs. Anderson who will move to Butler, Ala., this month.

Hoover PTA Plans Valentine Dinner

Neenah — A Valentine theme will be used for the public chicken dinner to be sponsored recently by the Hoover school Parent-Teacher association Feb. 15 at the school.

The dinner will be served by members of Girl Scout troop 143 as part of their work toward a community service badge. Chairman of the dinner is Mrs. Chester Gooding.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Clark, Mrs. Wayne McDonald, Mrs. Ron Carter, Mrs. James Burr, Mrs. Edwin DeHate, Mrs. Edward Piekarz and Mrs. Al Starck. Publicity will be handled by Mrs. Ernest Davis.

Elks Ladies of Neenah-Menasha will be guests of the Appleton Elks Ladies at a breakfast and bridge Monday and guests of the Oshkosh group Jan. 28 at the Oshkosh Elks club.

Prize winners at a Wednesday evening meeting at the Elks club were Mrs. Harold Maas, Mrs. Francis Brochtrup, Mrs. Vyler Dennis, Mrs. Zella Frederick, Mrs. Francis Hau-ser, Mrs. Max Kern, Mrs. Roy Hela, Mrs. Imbert Huus, Mrs. Orville LaSelle, Mrs. William Paul, Mrs. Richard Roubush and Mrs. Ed Lang.

Guests at the Wednesday afternoon Menasha Woman's Benefit association at the home of Mrs. Stanley Bennetts 237 Kaukauna street, Menasha, were Mrs. Margaret Miller, district deputy, and Mrs. Edith Weber, both of Kaukauna.

A donation was voted to the mensional display of keepsakes. The home agent suggests covering a mat with plain Klusmeyer, county home agent or small figured wallpaper, cloth of a simple design or painting each side of the mat pieces of a glass collection or a different color or texture for is a good way for a three-dimensional interest.

County Homemakers Will Charter Bus for Farm, Week Program at Madison

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau — Winnebago county homemakers will charter a bus to attend the Feb. 5 program of farm and home week being held at the University of Wisconsin. The bus will leave at 7:15 that morning from the Paul, Mrs. Richard Roubush court house for Madison.

The program will include a talk on the future significance of atomic energy to agriculture by L. E. Engelberg; a talk on changes in farm organizations by R. K. Froker; and "Future Significance of the St. Lawrence Seaway," by Gov. Vernon Thomson.

A demonstration on "Laundry Magic" will be presented by Eleanor Ahern, consultant for a soap manufacturer; a demonstration on "Learn to See Texture and Pattern," by Ruth Davis of the state university, and a talk, "Russia, the Red Velvet Curtain," by Helen Mathison of the Wisconsin State Journal will form the afternoon program.

Reservations for the trip are due with Mrs. Walter Miller route 1, Pickett, by Jan. 29.

Jays, Rockets Clash For 1st Time in '58

Neenah Bids for 11th Victory; Hosts Attempt to Snap 2-Game Losing Chain, Post 3-6 Slate

Menasha — Neenah, seeking its eleventh straight win, and Menasha, attempting to rebound from a pair of losses, will collide in their first inter-city meeting of the season Friday night at the Bluejay gym.

When the two clubs met about this time last year, the Rockets had a 7-2 slate and Menasha 6-2. This year Neenah has a perfect record while the Jays have three wins in nine outings. They lost to Kaukauna and Wisconsin Rapids last weekend.

Neenah is tied with Shawano for first place in the Mid-Eastern conference and the Bluejays are in a fifth place deadlock with Kaukauna. At last year's initial meeting, both had 3-1 to tie for third and fourth behind Shawano and Two Rivers, both of whom were unbeaten.

Average 62.4 Points
Going into this collision, the Rockets have scored 624 points for an average of 62.4 per test while Menasha has tallied 546 or 61 per fray. Defensively, the Red and White has much the better of it. Their opponents have tallied 487 points or 48.7 per start while the Menasha foes have notched 543 or a little better than 60.

The two adversaries have bumped heads with six common foes, Appleton, Kimberly, New London, Clintonville, Kaukauna and Wisconsin Rapids. The Rockets defeated all of them while the Jays lost to Appleton by one, Wisconsin Rapids by three, Kaukauna by four and downed Clintonville and New London.

Likely Starters
Likely Neenah starters and their points for all games are: Fred Seggelink (189) center, Ed Meyer (80) and Dave Thomson (115) guards, and Bill Kuehl (71), or Marv Carlson (33) at one forward and Gene Gries (26) or Pete Bylow (51) at the other.

Gries has seen little action lately because of illness but he looked good in his brief appearance against New London last week.

Probable Menasha starters and their points are Don Nelson (172) and Gordy Selbach (134), guards; Jerry Koslowski (66), center, and Jim Hanson (29) and Hal Jorgenson (34), forwards.

Other Neenah players and their point totals include Ralph Syring (23), Kent Simerson (14), Jim Hensen (10), Jerry Moder (8) and Jerry Hensen (6).

Reserve Totals
Totals by Menasha reserves include Dave Robinson (40), Tom Stepanski (23), Carl Jersild (14), Larry Wright (11), Dick Taves (10), Bob Hodiewicz (7) and Ken Konezke (6). The two clubs were matched three times last year. Each won on its own court in conference sessions while the Jays pulled out a verdict in the first game of the subregional tournament.

The Rockets won 75-53 without too much trouble in the opener. They jumped into a 20-9 first quarter lead and never were headed. Of the returning scorers, Thomsen had 24 points, Seggelink 15, Meyer 10, Bylow 8 and Gries four and Syring and Simerson two for Neenah. The only returning Menasha players to break into the point column were Nelson with 18 and Selbach 17. Bob Prange led with 20.

Halftime Tie
The second game, won by Menasha 72-69, was a dandy. Neenah led 21-16 at the quarter and the score was tied 36-36 at halftime. The winners went in front 55-48 after three but had to put down a late Rocket rush.

Seggelink scored 22 points, Bylow 12, Thomsen 11, Meyer eight and Gries one for Neenah while Nelson made 19 and Selbach five for Menasha. Menasha advanced to a 20-1 first quarter lead over Neenah in their tournament meeting, scored 19 points in the second period while limiting the Rockets to two and closed with a 72-49 verdict.

Selbach had 17 points and Nelson made 15 for the Bluejays while Thomsen topped Neenah with 18. Seggelink had eight, Meyer four, Syring three and Carlson two.

Falcons Score 137-74 Win Over Winneconne

Wisneski, Meyer Notch 37, 36 Points for Victors, Who Hit 42 Markers in 4th Frame

Winneconne — A 42-point fourth quarter, 30-plus totals, four cagers and the fine rebounding of Ron Locklin paved the way for St. John's 137-74 victory over Winneconne in a Badger Amateur Basketball association game here Wednesday night.

The game opened second round play for the Falcons. The 137 points was probably the highest total in the history of the team. On the dark side, the Menashans lost the services of high-scoring Jack Konezke for the season. He reinjured his knee in the first 24 minutes of play.

Al Wisneski contributed 37 points and Jim Meyer scored up her home when a long range program of development is formed, but that the possible "hodge podge" of business created by the potential rezoning would not be in the best interests of the city or the area. Action on the matter was delayed at the request of Ald. Peter Fara. Should the rezoning ordinance, prepared for Wednesday's meeting, fail to pass when presented to the council again, the spot rezoning of Miss Perry's parcel would have to be reconsidered and a public hearing held.

Winneconne Site Of Soil Management Short Course Class

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Soil management for less compaction is the topic of the third farmer short course meeting set for the Winneconne village hall at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Discussing the subject will be Arthur Peterson, University of Wisconsin soils specialist who is working in research on subsoiling, deep versus shallow tillage and spring against fall plowing.

85 Visit Farms on Tour of County Holstein Breeders

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Some 85 farmers observed operations on four dairy farms in Winnebago county on a tour sponsored by the county Holstein Breeders association Wednesday in cooperation with the county extension office.

Small herds as well as large herds were visited, some of them highly mechanized. One of the farms was an institution where the patients do much of the work. On each farm there were special points of interest not duplicated at the other farms.

A memorandum of special items of interest relative to the dairy unit on each farm was distributed by County Agent Vernon Peroutky. At each stop, James Crowley, extension dairyman of the University of Wisconsin, made observations.

The first stop was at the Lawrence Clark farm in the Nekimi township. This farm, based on DHIA records increased, from 375 pounds of butterfat in 1955 to 430 pounds last year. Of special interest was the mechanical development, including outside feed bunk feeders which conveyed silage thrown down by means of an automatic silo unloader.

A 39-cow herd and 40 other head of dairy stock farm is operated by Lawrence Clark and his son, David.

The second stop was at the Munsil Williams farm in the town of Utica, a 260-acre century-farm family farm. There are 49 Holstein milking, 26 other head of dairy stock, 15 Angus and 30 sheep. The high on their experiences with those practices. Final meeting of the short course will be a dinner at Omro Feb. 11.

lights were a bull paddock and adjoining service shed of the barn and a mow hay dryer. The Winnebago hospital farm was the institutional herd visited. Henry Lenz is the farm manager, Hans Wenger the herdsman and Clarence Ward the superintendent. They have 62 Holsteins in milk plus 82 other head. The herd average has increased from 273 pounds of butterfat and 7,800 pounds of milk per cow in 1953 to 420 pounds of fat and 11,500 pounds of milk in 1957.

All milk is consumed by the patients and staff. This 93-year old institution has 300 patients in the hospital and 84 in the home for the retired.

The last stop of the tour was at Howard Beck's farm in the town of Vinland. This is a smaller farm unit comprising a young herd of 19 Holsteins. In the four years the Becks have been on this farm, milk production has increased from 9,000 pounds of milk and 367 pounds of butterfat to 12,400 pounds of milk and 450 pounds of fat.

Of interest were the home-made comfort stalls for five of the top producing cows. It was noted that all farms visited have cattle under DHIA testing and in addition have soil erosion control plans under the soil conservation service.

Officers and directors of the county Holstein Breeders association who helped plan the tour are Louis Jensen, route 6, Oshkosh, president; Lytle Beck, route 3, Oshkosh, vice president; Phil Grundy, route 4, Oshkosh, secretary; O. G. McSchooler, route 2, Omro, treasurer; Phil Lautenbach, route 2, Fremont, director, and Robert Van Alstine, route 2, Omro, director.

Menasha Post Office Shows Record Year

Only One Department Has Decrease in Business for 1957

Menasha — A record year was conducted at the Menasha post office during 1957 with every department except one showing an increase over the previous year, Postmaster John Backes reported today.

The only department that showed a decrease was in money orders sold, dropping from 33,384 in 1956 to 30,365 last year. The value of the money orders also dropped from $602,167 to $563,733.

Increases noted during the year were in postal receipts, from $341,190 to $370,077; stamp sales, $68,071 to $73,390; metered postage not including post office meter mail, $313,019 to $325,042, and the number of pieces of mail cancelled, 1,946,407 to 2,043,150.

A record amount of funds also was deposited with the federal reserve bank during 1957 a total of $1,140,565, $26,000 more than was deposited in 1956.

of responsibilities but are more or less inclined to be interested in comforts." Father Becker mentioned and he said he thought a good Christian background in union leaders from the smallest to the highest can mean better living conditions for all labor.

He also cited four recommendations of the National Catholic Welfare council in its labor statement.

Those recommendations were for a regular intelligent and vocal participation in union meetings, assuming the burden of union leadership even at the cost of personal inconvenience, proceeding on their own initiative.

tive to eliminate such abuses as "soldiering on the job" or arbitrary restrictions on output or production and working at the local union level to eliminate the problem of labor racketeering. John Arnold, a past president of the former group, served as toastmaster and the dinner was served by the wives of members of the Marathon Nicolet local No. 148.

Dancing Class Registrations Being Accepted

Instruction Courses Will Begin Tuesday

Menasha — Registrations for a series of dance instruction classes for Menasha children will be taken through Friday at the Memorial building. Classes are scheduled to begin Tuesday, it was announced today.

Classes, the fifth series since the program was inaugurated by the recreation department in 1936, include ballet, tap and baton, and rhythmic dancing. The latter is a basic course for pre-school and kindergarten boys and girls.

All will be held on Tuesdays and repeated on Thursdays. Each class will be 30 minutes long and limited to 15 children.

Mrs. La Rayne Blohm, owner and operator of a dance studio in Menasha, will be the instructor. She has a background of more than 14 years as a dance teacher.

The classes are intended to give children an introduction to the medium of dance in a class setting. They will be held for 15 weeks.

Rehabilitation of Handicapped Told To Civic League

Winneconne — Rehabilitation was discussed by Mrs. Ted Hoyer, president of the Ted Hoyer company of Oshkosh which makes equipment for handicapped persons, in her talk at the Civic league dinner Monday night at the village hall.

She told of the work being done at rehabilitation centers and stressed that help is needed in carrying out their programs. Rehabilitation of the unfortunate is everyone's responsibility, she declared, and they should be helped to become taxpayers rather than tax burdens.

Mrs. Hoyer cited cases in which mentally and physically retarded persons have, through their own efforts, attained success because of assistance received in bringing their abilities into the open.

Hostesses were the Mmes. Clarence Mueller, Allan Arthur, Oscar Wentzel, George Mader, Roy Baitinger, Delores McEnroe, Etna Jean Safford, Dewey Kronitz, L. J. Campbell and Marjory Dowling. High school girls guests were Joanne Gauerke, Carol Olson, Susan Bruss and Peggy Wentzel.

The third week of January was named "Lillian Bockin week." Each member is to secure a book from the local library of which Mrs. Bockin is librarian.

Merritt Clinton Elected President Of Vocational Board

Menasha — Merritt Clinton was elected president of the Menasha Board of Vocational and Adult Education Tuesday night, it was announced today. Other officers are Douglas Hyde, vice president, and William Ryan, secretary. Frank Robinson and M. J. Gegan are also on the board.

Thespians to Give 'Devil's Disciple'

Neenah — The Neenah High school Thespians will present "The Devil's Disciple" by George Bernard Shaw on Feb. 2 and March 1. Kenneth Anderson, director of the Thespians, and English teacher, announced today.

The play, first produced around the turn of the century, concerns an incident that takes place during General John Burgoyne's invasion of the United States colonies from Canada during the American Revolution.

Anderson has already issued a plea for actors. There are 10 male and five female speaking roles in the play, and about 24 walk-on or extra roles.

Decision to Come

Menasha — The trial of Jerome Schiese, 21, 108 Oak street, Neenah, charged by Menasha police with reckless driving, was held Wednesday and the case was taken under advisement by Menasha Police Justice Arthur Ales until Saturday morning. Schiese was arrested on Dec. 22 and pleaded innocent Dec. 24.

Just in case any of Appleton's high school basketball Terrors become too complacent in contemplating this weekend's dates with lowly Oshkosh and Sheboygan North, here's a brief refresher.

Last season, another low-rated Oshkosh quintet almost knocked the Terrors out of the Fox River Valley conference race with a resounding 64-63 upset.

Another KO
Later, in the Menasha regional tournament, David Kod Goliath again, this time by a 55-33 score.

And, the Terrors looked like anything but title contenders in absorbing a 75-52 shellacking at Manitowish last Friday.

North Coach Charles "Bump" Jones, Sr., and the Indians' mentor, Ron Nord, very probably are using that result this week in attempts to convince their proteges that this isn't Appleton's year.

While the Terrors are cavorting on the rugged Oshkosh court Friday night, unbeaten Sheboygan Central invades Green Bay East for a highly important pairing.

Other Friday tilts dispatch Green Bay West to Sheboygan North and Fond du Lac to unbeaten Manitowish.

Saturday Central once more participates in the headline-stealer, welcoming Manitowish North plays at Appleton. East at Fond du Lac and Oshkosh at Green Bay West in other attractions.

The "double feature" weekend is the first of two in the FRVC this season.

To Use Same Starters

Terror Coach Dick Emanuel plans to stick with backcourt Jack Uvelling, Bill Bedard and Dick King. Frontliners Howie Hamann and Tom Verkuilen in his starting array Friday.

The lack of scoring from Verkuilen — a Terror problem all season — has been more acute than ever of late. The 6-4, 3-year varsity veteran has tallied seven points in Appleton's last three games.

He scored just one point in the big game at Manitowish before fouling out.

If the good-natured "Verk's" point-drought continues Emanuel will either go with 6-5 sophomore Ron Abel or may switch to a single pivot attack, with Hamann in the lane.

John DeMerit Signs 1958 Braves Pact

Milwaukee — Outfielder John DeMerit signed as a bonus rookie free off the University of Wisconsin campus last year by the Milwaukee Braves, has returned his signed 1958 contract, the baseball club announced Wednesday.

Appearing in 32 games, DeMerit batted .143 and drove in one run last season. A native of Port Washington, DeMerit is completing his education at Wisconsin this winter.

Ripon — Undermanned Lawrence, a decided underdog, extended Ripon all the way here Wednesday night before succumbing, 53-44, in a Midwest conference game.

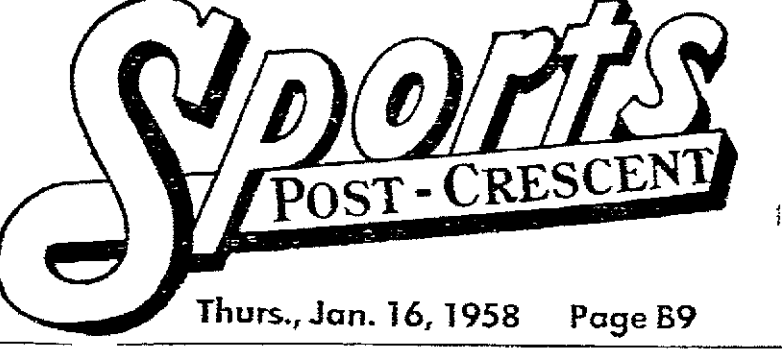

The loss, Lawrence's possession-style offense had the Redmen seriously rattled into the second half and Ripon never really got its offense going. Especially during the first 20 minutes at times when the Redmen were able to get the ball, they wasted possession with poor passing.

Won From Foul Line
Ripon, now 3-4 in league play, won the game from the free throw line. Lawrence coined 20 baskets to Ripon's 19 but was able to connect on but four of 17 free throws to Ripon's 15 of 24.

The Vikings' Bill Wood hit his career high total of 20 points to lead both clubs and played a brilliant floor game. The Viking senior was the outstanding player in the game. Guard Gordie Rush paced Ripon with 16 points.

The Vikings utilized their "keep-away" offense from the

(From AP Dispatches)

Neenah's Rockets, winners of 10 straight games, have been ranked the No. 3 basketball team in the state by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association tournament committee.

The only teams rated above Neenah in the season's initial "Big 16" list are state champion Shawano and Neenah, two of the 11 unbeaten "large" schools in the state currently share the Mid-Eastern conference lead.

Hortonville, the only other unbeaten team in the Fox Cities area besides Neenah, is the No. 2 team among the smaller schools. The only quint rated ahead of the unbeaten Polar Bears in the "little 16" roster is Marshall, winner of 11 straight.

The two remaining unbeaten teams in the Fox River Valley conference, Manitowish and Sheboygan Central, are rated fifth and ninth, respectively, on the Big 16.

Lawrence Reactivates Baseball; Don Boya to Coach 1958 Team

Vikes Now Have Nine Intercollegiate Sports; 8 Games Slated This Spring

This spring, baseball will return to Lawrence as an intercollegiate sport after an absence of at least 12 years.

Atletic Director Art Denney has announced that an 8-game non-conference schedule will be booked for the Vikes in this year of reactivation.

Don Boya, head basketball coach, will direct the baseball team.

Baseball becomes the fourth spring sport (the others are track, golf and tennis) and the ninth intercollegiate sport, overall on the Lawrence program.

Four Home Games
Baseball has made several previous appearances on the Lawrence campus. The Vikes played it spasmodically until 1922. Then it reappeared during World War II for the benefit of the Navy V-12 program, which was run on a year-round basis. During the war years, the Vikes team played such teams as Camp Grant, Great Lakes and St. Mary of Winona.

The 1958 Vikings will probably play four home games and will use either or both Goodland field and the South Side Athletic club field. The use of Goodland field will be contingent upon the home schedule arranged for the Fox Cities team in the 3-1 league. The SSAC will probably make its field available to Lawrence for practice.

Ray McClone Named Head Of New Fox Cities Club

Kaukauna's Joseph Schouten Is Vice President; Nine New Team Directors are Elected

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Ray McClone is the new president of the Fox Cities Baseball club.

McClone, who heads an Appleton lumber company, was elected by club directors Wednesday night to succeed Andrew Parnell, who served as president of the old Appleton Baseball club for many years, announced he was not a candidate for reelection because of the pressure of his duties as circuit judge.

Kaukauna's Joseph Schouten, one of nine new directors chosen by the stockholders, was chosen vice president to succeed J. R. Whitman who was not a candidate for reelection to the board.

Two Are Reelected
S. M. Timmers and John Wissman were reelected secretary and treasurer, respectively, in the Elks club meeting.

Robert Biesmann was named assistant secretary.

In addition to Schouten, new directors named to the enlarged 21-man board are Robert Di Renzo, Neenah; George Vanderloop, Little Chute; Ralph McClone, Menasha; Bob Eiting, Kimberly; Bob Cole, Menasha; and Martin Unmuth, Bob Kamps and Dan Ornstein, all of Appleton.

Unmuth, Ornstein, Cole, Vanderloop and Eiting were all chosen for 3-year terms; Ralph McClone and Schouten for 2-year terms; and Di Renzo and Kamps for one year apiece.

Amendments Okayed
Hold-over directors (all of Appleton) and their terms are Ray McClone (two years), Timmers (one), Wissman (two), Biesmann (three), Parnell (one), Dave Smith (one), Nate Spector (one), Arthur Jones (one), George Johnson (one), Art Benson (two), John Riedl (one), and Clarence Below (three).

The stockholders' session was the adjourned meeting from Dec. 11. Timmers announced that the three corporate amendments adopted last month, including the reasons why the corporation "The stock in the various Fox Cities Fox Cities Baseball club, incorporated" has been approved by the secretary of state, likely to want to buy stock.

Seventeen Fox Citizens in the interested assembly volunteered to do committee work or aid the directors in any capacity that might help the new Class B franchise flourish.

They include Frank Warner, Max Tugate, Al Becher, George Kloes, Ken Priebe, Howard Locklin, Chuck Johnson, William Pifer, Russ Berg-

Directors agreed that a great effort would have to be made to sell stock ($5 a share) to "small" subscribers. Several reported surprisingly few turnouts from smaller prospectives contacted. A director indicated that one Art Benson (two) John Riedl (one) trouble is in not knowing "who to approach" for stock sales.

Another said there has been duplication in contacting persons who have already subscribed.

Consequently, the officers will draw up lists—one of persons who have already bought stock in the various Fox Cities Fox Cities Baseball club, and the other of baseball-minded individuals who are likely to want to buy stock.

Stockholders were told that interested assembly volunteers have gone out to various service clubs and to Appleton Chamber of Commerce members. The C of C letter, prepared by President Victor I. Maahan, Jr., says in part that the board "hopes that all Chamber members will buy stock in the baseball club as individuals" and that "your support will help not only to provide good, clean

Baseball Fund Campaign Hits 'Plateau'

Aim for 'Surge,' Individual Buyers To be Contacted

The fund drive of the new Fox Cities baseball club seems to have hit a plateau, stockholders learned at Wednesday night's meeting in the Appleton Elks club.

The report, prepared by Finance Chairman Dave Smith and read by Secretary S. M. Timmers, indicated that roughly $9,000 of the needed $15,000 has either been collected or pledged. The figure is only slightly above that quoted at the Dec. 11 meeting.

The principal reasons given for the recent lag are the effects of the holiday season and the number of other fund drives that have been conducted simultaneously.

Fred Jungers Hits 267 Industrial Line

Game Ties for Fifth Best of Season; Don Frank Jars 605

Fred Jungers walloped a 267 singleton—tied for fifth best of the Appleton men's league season—in Industrial league bowling at Hahn's Wednesday. He dropped a pair of strikes, had a spare in the next two frames and then strung together eight strikes for his Jimos Hats team.

Don Frank potted the loftiest series, a 605, for Offenstein Supply, pitting loners such as 232 and 216 along the route. Knoke Lumber (35-19) holds a 1-line lead.

Jim Aeger's 587 paced the Merchants' wheel at the Elks club. He rattled a 217 singleton for Big Shoe. "Hap" Streibig's 235 for Jahnke Wreckers was the largest game. He wound up with a 532.

Van Wink T-V (35-19) owns a 4-game circuit lead.

Jim Evans blasted the most ample series, a 575, in the Elks Western circuit. Frans Larson hit the top singleton, a 226, and finished with a 550. Idaho (33-18) shares first place with the Stanford team.

Clifford Gierald's 544 topped the Fraternal circuit at Hahn's. He poked a 203 loner for Schusters. F. Zamzow's 221 led game counts. He's on the roster of first place AAL No. 2 (33-21) which shares the lead with Odd Fellows No. 2.

CW Co-Leaders Expected to Win Friday

Iola, Marion and Wittenberg Face 2nd-Division Foes

The Central Wisconsin conference's first division clubs will be favored to repeat early season victories over a quarter of second division foes Friday night.

The only one of the top four quintets which won't be playing at home is Marion, which travels to Manawa. The co-leading Pigeons rang up an impressive 73-39 win over the Wolves on the Marion court as center Terry Balderson poured in 30 points.

Iola and Wittenberg, which share the top spot with Marion, welcome Waupaca and Amherst, respectively, Friday night. Iola disposed of the Comets, 65-47, at Waupaca as a 17-scoring bulge in the second quarter helped no end. Wittenberg dropped Amherst, 66-48, on the Falcons' floor.

Friday's other pairing matches as fourth place Weyauwega and sixth place Bonduel in the last 10 minutes to keep Law-Indians' teepee. "Wega's 54-50 success at Bonduel was achieved with the aid of a last-quarter rally.

Dodgers Still Are Homeless

Friday Is New 'Day of Decision' On Coliseum Bid

Los Angeles—P—The Los Angeles Dodgers—who couldn't have had a tougher time if they'd come west in covered wagons—were still homeless today, after another "day of decision" on which nothing was decided.

Confronted by the latest action, or lack of it, Dodger President Walter O'Malley observed: "The bride is impatient."

He made this terse comment after the Memorial Coliseum commission delayed action again Wednesday on the question of letting the Dodgers rent the 101,000-seat stadium in 1958 and 1959.

Friday is the new "day of decision." It may be just that, but the way things have been going here it may not even turn out to be Friday.

Governor Gets Into Act

Dissension Is Hindering Hunt for Aggie Coach

College Station, Texas—P—Officials of Texas A.M. embroiled in dissension over selection of a football coach, try today to sift some order into their seemingly endless hunt.

With criticism coming from all sides, Dr. Chris Groneman, chairman of the Faculty Athletic council, said the group would try to appraise the situation.

Even Gov. Price Daniel has gotten into the act, calling for a complete report on the much-criticized search for a successor to Paul Bryant, who quit Jan. 1 to become head coach at Alabama.

W. T. Doherty of Houston, chairman of the college board of directors, sacked the board's Madison—P—Bill Sensiba, Green Bay sophomore, won a split decision from Bill Hobbs of Eau Claire Wednesday to move into the 165-pound final bracket of the all-University of Wisconsin boxing tournament Friday night.

Both Sensiba and Hobbs had won contenders tournament championships last week.

The tourney will decide championships in eight divisions and determine the winner of the "fightest fighter" trophy.

Achieves Split Decision Over
Turner in 12

Philadelphia — It will be Vince Martinez against Isaac Logart for the vacated welterweight championship — National Boxing association version.

Martinez won the right Wednesday night for the first to determine a successor to Carmen Basilio as welterweight king by outpointing Philadelphia's Gil Turner in a 12-round bout. Basilio gave up the title after winning the middleweight crown from Ray Robinson.

Martinez, of Patterson, N. J., received only a split decision but established a clear superiority over Turner with sharp punching, especially in the final three rounds.

A Single Point Referee Pete Pantaleo scored Martinez the winner by a single point under the Pennsylvania 5-point maximum system, 54-53. Judge Jimmy Mina voted for Martinez, 56-54. Judge Nate Lopinson surprised the crowd of 7,129 — it paid $37,959 — by calling a 55-53 draw.

The NBA said last week the winner of the Martinez-Turner bout should meet Logart, who earned a final berth in the welterweight elimination tournament by defeating Gaspar Ortega last month.

Last night's fight followed the expected pattern. Turner, 27-year-old Negro who was knocked out five years ago in a welterweight title fight with Kid Gavilan, was the aggressor. He kept after Martinez throughout, seeking to get in close for his damaging combination punches to the body and face.

But Martinez, a clever boxer, kept him off with a sharp left jab and hard overhand right. The Patterson fighter was never in trouble and finished strong.

He staggered Turner in the eleventh with a left hook that sent the Philadelphia reeling. Martinez went down in the fourth round but it was the result of a push and there was no count.

Falls Quintet To Challenge Plymouth High Brillion Plays Host To Once-Beaten Kohler Friday

Kohler	2	4	0
Sheboygan	2	4	0
N. Holstein	4	2	0
Brillion	2	4	0

Friday Night's Games:
Chilton at Valders.
Kohler at Holstein.
Sheboygan Falls at Plymouth
Kiel at New Holstein.

Tuesday's Results:
Elkhart Lake 65, Kiel 55.

If Sheboygan Falls fails to stop Plymouth in Friday's night Eastern Wisconsin conference feature, the current leaders may well go through the league season unbeaten.

Under the EW's 12-game schedule, Plymouth plays its two chief rivals — Kohler and Sheboygan Falls — only once each. Plymouth has already taken Kohler's measure.

After Friday, the toughest remaining foe for Plymouth will be New Holstein, the thrice-beaten defending champions who have but a glimmer of championship hope left.

If Sheboygan Falls is able to spill Plymouth, the door would be open for Kohler to move into a first-place tie. The Blue Bombers, one of the pre-season title favorites, invade Brillion Friday night. The Lions are one of three teams tied for fifth place in the standings.

Chilton makes another bid for its first win with a visit to Valders. Valders has taken two decisions in six tries.

quacies come as a surprise. The hefty youngster showed great promise when brought up to the varsity as a sophomore and he usually scores well in practice.

Aside from Abel, Emanuel Rivers, 67-60; West Allis Na-hasn't been getting much help from his reserves, which hasn't made the coach's job any easier. Junior Ron Reetz has re-joined the squad after being on the shelf for over a month with an injury but he doesn't figure to be of immediate help.

In defeating only Ripon in six starts (57-51), Oshkosh has been getting most of its scoring punch from veteran guards Wayne Frazier (5-10) and Jim Nitkowski (5-9).

entertainment for the people of our community, but will help put the Fox Cities out in front as one of Wisconsin's really progressive communities."

Retiring President Andrew Parnell cited Smith and Ray McCrone for spearheading the financial drive to date. He said that the total is "as good as or better than I thought it would be at this stage."

Though the drive should continue indefinitely, according to Parnell, a "surge" is needed now. He added that he felt the balance of the money would be raised but urged everyone to work hard on the assignment in the next few weeks.

Indicative of the building enthusiasm in the Three-I league enterprise, Parnell said he has been approached by individuals from both Oshkosh and Two Rivers who are anxious to stage special "nights" at Goodland field and would bring entertainment units along from their communities.

Parnell said Bob Willis, new business manager, would begin his duties Monday. For the three months before the start of the season, he will occupy a College avenue office — which will be selected soon — and after that, he will be stationed at the ball park.

Read These Contest Rules Carefully! You Can Win!

Read these rules carefully. They must be followed if you are to be eligible for a prize.

- The contest is open to all boy and girl Post-Crescent comics readers in this newspaper's circulation area. Contestants may enter in one of two categories — Pre-Teen (12 years of age and under) and Teen-Age (13 to 19 years of age). If you become 20 years of age on or before February 15, 1958, you are not eligible to enter the contest. If you become 13 years of age on or before February 15, 1958 you must enter the Teen-Age group.
- Sons and daughters of Post-Crescent employees are not eligible to enter the contest.
- Each contestant to be eligible for a prize must submit the following:
 - A drawing of a comic character appearing regularly in the Post-Crescent. This drawing must be on one side of an 8" by 10" sheet of white paper, and may be in ink, pencil, water color or any other suitable medium. For maximum consideration, the drawing should depict the character or characters "in action", an action created by the contestant. Tracings will not be eligible for consideration.
 - A statement of 100 words or less on "Why I Like Newspaper Comics". This must be written on a separate sheet of 8" x 10" white paper, one side only, and should be printed, typewritten or in a very clear legible handwriting. Neatness of drawing and clarity of statement will be determining factors in choosing the winning entries.
 - The Post-Crescent comics which will be eligible for contestants to use in developing their entry are:

Five Driven From Building by Fire

About $10,000 Damage Reported To College Avenue Structure

Five apartment dwellers were driven from their homes early this morning by a fire in the Voigt building, 134 E. College avenue.

Fire Chief Paul Neumann said a lighted cigaret which fell from a dresser into a chair was the cause.

Damage was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000 by E. J. Voigt, 1423 S. Memorial drive, a co-owner of the building with his brother J. L. Voigt, New Brunswick, N. J. Others on the scene said the damage may total upwards of $10,000.

Forced from the building by the heat of flames in apartments were Phil C. Nickel, 23, Miss Arlene Coppis, Miss Jessie Mory and three unidentified young women whose apartment on the half story was not threatened.

Fireman Injured
The only injury reported was to Fireman Lloyd Essner who received a minor cut from falling glass while scaling a ladder to the second floor. Neumann said Essner was cut in the hand.

Firemen found Nickel's 1-room apartment alive with flames and smoke when they arrived about 4:20.

Quick action, the chief reported, confined the flames to the room, except for a small inroad made to the attic from the ceiling.

Nickel's room is a total loss, the chief said. Everything in it, including all of Nickel's possessions except the trousers he was wearing, was lost.

Water, Smoke, Heat Damage
Damage in the apartments of Miss Mory and Miss Coppis resulted from smoke, water and heat.

The same was true of the offices of Dr. William J. Harrington, which also are located on the building's second floor.

Voigt reported minor water damage to stock in his store. The chief said some water dripped through the first floor ceiling, but firemen had placed covers over the stock.

Neumann traced these events which led to the fire. Miss Coppis detected smoke from Nickel's room and aroused the sleeping man.

Doused Once
A cigaret which Nickel had been smoking had fallen from a dresser into a chair.

Nickel doused the chair with water and went back to sleep. The time was about 2:15.

About 4 o'clock Miss Coppis was aroused again by the odor of smoke. When she saw smoke billowing from under Nickel's door, she called firemen.

Firemen said Nickel was trying to put out the flames when they arrived. Firemen described the scene as a roomful of flames. They wondered how Nickel managed to stay in it.

Given Clothing
Nickel, clad only in his trousers, was taken to the police station where he was furnished with boots and a sweater.

Three fire companies, with 14 men, responded. They attacked the fire from the outside through Nickel's window on the N. Morrison street side and by way of the stairs leading to Dr. Harrington's offices. They spent an hour and 23 minutes on the scene.

The Voigt building is a wood frame one, with a brick veneer, Neumann said.

Appleton Firemen Sweep Up Debris after a cigaret set fire to an apartment on the second floor of the Voigt building, 134 E. College avenue, early this morning. Damage to the second floor, site of three apartments and an office, variously was estimated today at between $5,000 and $10,000 and upwards of $10,000. (Post-Crescent Photo)

17 New Business Items

Alderman Wants Bridge Openings Prohibited at Peak Traffic Hours

Alderman Ervin J. Bogan Wednesday night asked the council to adopt an ordinance prohibiting opening draw bridges for pleasure craft during peak traffic hours.

His resolution was one of 17 items of new business which either were referred to committees for study or filed.

Bogan suggests the ban for Mondays through Fridays to "eliminate much congestion at drawbridges during the peak traffic hours." He lists peak times as between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning, between 11:15 in the morning and 1:15 in the afternoon and between 4:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon.

Other Items:
Alderman Al H. Stoenbauer wants steps taken to eliminate the dip in the roadway at the Chicago and North Western Railway company crossing on N. State street.

Alderman John Schumacher wants a concrete pavement, with curb and gutter, constructed on N. Oneida street from the point where an improved pavement ends to Highway 41.

The request, he said, replaces one for curb and gutter only which he submitted Dec. 4.

Seeks Rezoning
Alderman Robert Stumpf wants stop signs erected at S. Oneida street intersections with E. Wilson avenue, E. Harding avenue and E. Coolidge avenue and at S. Carpenter street and E. Murray avenue and E. Calumet street and S. Gladys street.

Berg and Henn, house movers, applied for permits to move two buildings. One, a house at 1108 N. Lawe street, would make way for expansion by Standard Manufacturing company. The other, a garage at 116 N. Drew street, would make way for a parking lot and eventually a new parish house for All Saints Episcopal church. The house will be moved outside the city, the garage to 511 S. Locust street.

Elmer Honkamp, real estate agent, asked for rezoning of 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at property which Mr. and Mrs. the Booth and Voss Funeral home, owned at 213 home, Manawa, with the Rev. Norman Lawton, pastor of the district, the charge. Burial will be in the building has been in non-conforming use as grocery and He is survived by one sister, electronics stores for years, is Mrs. Cora Darling, Manawa.

Wallace Doney
Wallace Doney, 80, Manawa, died at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in Manawa after a long illness. He was born Sept. 5, 1877, in New London, He came to Manawa in 1884. He was a logging camp cook most of his life.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at property which Mr. and Mrs. the Booth and Voss Funeral home, owned at 213 home, Manawa, with the Rev. Norman Lawton, pastor of the district, the charge. Burial will be in the building has been in non-conforming use as grocery and He is survived by one sister, electronics stores for years, is Mrs. Cora Darling, Manawa.

Correction
In the caption of a photograph of Gus B. Hersekorn which appeared in Wednesday's Post-Crescent, it was in error to commercial and light Manawa Methodist church, in the Appleton police department. In 1933, Hersekorn joined the department April 18, 1927. He resigned Wednesday.

'Bite' Put on Dogs Who Nip Mail Carriers

Appleton Post Office Leads State in Number Of Canine Accidents

The U.S. postal department has issued new instructions to clamp down on dogs who show a fondness for nipping parts of mail carriers' anatomy, according to Arthur Summerfield, postmaster general.

Summerfield has ordered that owners of offending dogs must pick up their mail at the post office if, after two warning letters, they fail to mend the ways of their canine companions. He said U.S. mail carriers receive about 6,000 bites per year.

Francis Sumnicht, acting Appleton postmaster, and his postmen have expressed satisfaction with the postmaster general's order. The Appleton post office has for many years asked owners of ill-tempered dogs to pick up mail at the post office building.

Sumnicht said Appleton mail carriers lead the state in number of bites requiring a doctor's attention. During 1957 there were 12 such cases. Four cases were disabling injuries which forced the postmen off their jobs for several days. He said the figure does not include minor bites unreported by carriers.

Bitten Three Times
"We have twice as many dog bite incidents as other accidents," Sumnicht stated.

"While back we had trouble with a dog who bit the delivery man, the milkman and the postman. The latter was bitten three times. The animal had an intense dislike for anyone in uniform. His owner now gets his mail at a post office box."

Sumnicht said there are several areas in Appleton where dogs have bitten every carrier who has had the route.

Ed Witt — Appleton's oldest mail carrier — has been bitten seriously 10 times during his 45 years of service. He's happy that national action is being taken against canine marauders.

Witt says danger of dog bites isn't as bad today as it was before city regulations required that dogs must be tied up or placed on a leash. Then postmen were subject to attack at anytime.

Faulty Neon Sign, Gas Odor Result in Calls to Firemen

A faulty neon sign at Bob's Quality Foods, 1235 W. College avenue, resulted in a call to firemen about 10:40 this morning. Firemen disconnected the sign from the electrical outlet.

A gas odor was reported to firemen from Schneider's grocery, 325 S. Memorial drive, about 5:10 Wednesday afternoon. Firemen found children had mixed a paste with a solvent and spilled some on the basement floor.

5 Contractors Purchase Land South of River

Five Fox Cities contractors have purchased about 53 acres of land on County Trunk Z on the south side of the Fox river from Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Klein and Joseph Klein, according to records at the office of Stephen M. Peeters, Outagamie county register of deeds.

Purchase price was about $90,000.

Purchasers are listed as Erwin G. Rehbein, Neenah, Chester J. Meirs, Lloyd Wordell and Leon and Milton Fischer, all of Appleton. The contractors will plat the land and are seeking to have it annexed.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Niespodzany to Frank Lemke, a lot in Seymour.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Bartman to Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Waldhaus, a lot in Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Hooyman to Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Boyden, a lot in Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. McCloze to Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Stracka, a lot in Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grutzmacher to Thomas E. Glomstead, a lot in Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. DeBoth to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopp, 609 S. Telulah avenue, who reported the accident to police.

Cars driven by Miss Kathleen M. Joyce, 615 N. Bateman street, and Joseph M. Van Groll, 62, route 4, Appleton, skidded on icy pavement and collided Wednesday noon at N. Bateman and E. Pacific streets. Miss Joyce's car was thrown into a tree by the impact.

Terrors' Den Hours
The YMCA Terrors' den will be open until 11 o'clock Saturday night following the Appleton High school - Sheboygan North basketball game, according to Carl Bruno, youth director.

County Student Transportation Costs Increase

District Reports Show $24,078 Boost From 1956-57 Figures

Total cost of transporting Outagamie county children to school in 1957-58 was $149,749—an increase of $24,078 from the 1956-57 total of $125,671—according to reports by school district clerks filed at the office of Henry J. Van Straten, Outagamie county school superintendent.

Average cost per child is $75.17, an increase of $2.16 from the previous year's $73.01 average. Average cost per mile is 30 cents—the same as 1956-57. The increased total cost figure can be attributed to boosts in the number of miles traveled and total number of students transported, Van Straten said. Annual mileage increased from 416,630 in 1956-57 to 483,299 this year. Students riding to school this year total 2,039—an increase of 336 from last year's 1,703 total.

Of the total, 1,875 are resident students and 158 are non-residents. In 1956-57 there were

Two-hundred and forty-four more high school students are being transported to classes this year. The 1957-58 total is 1,331, compared to 1,087 in 1956-57. Elementary students total 708, compared to 616 the previous year.

Van Straten said 1,086 students travel over five miles to school. This is an increase of 190 over the 1956-57 total of 896. This year, 800 students travel from two to five miles and 153 travel less than two miles.

There are 11 publicly owned buses to carry children to school. There are 36 privately owned buses in operation, compared to 29 last year.

Automobiles used in transporting children dropped from 32 in 1956-57 to 30 this year. Total students transported by car decreased from 160 during the 1956-57 school year to 145 this year. Total cost of automobile transportation dropped $900 from $10,400 in 1956-57 to $9,500 in 1957-58.

Appleton CWV Post Wins Top State Prize

Commodore John Barry of the Catholic War Veterans has received a prize for winning the state CWV membership contest, according to Francis Sumnitch, post historian.

The unit has 240 members. It will meet at the Appleton Columbus club at 8 o'clock tonight to discuss proposals to be brought before the state CWV board.

Council Votes to Give Old School Site to VNA

Plea for More Study Loses by 14-to-6 Tally

After a plea for more study failed, the city council Wednesday night unanimously approved giving the old Jefferson school site to the Visiting Nurse association.

Two restrictions will be placed in the deed. Construction of the proposed 50-bed, 1-story old folks home, expected to cost upwards of $400,000, must begin within five years. And, if the VNA abandons the tract, ownership of the land reverts to the city.

The old school is being razed could be worked out under a city contract. Aldermen in November voted to turn over the site to the park board on a temporary basis for a playground. VNA officials outlined their plans for use of the parcel at the Jan. 6 board of public works meeting. The board backed the VNA plan. City Atty. Don Jury will draft the necessary papers conveying the property to the VNA.

Ald. Roy Pointer, who stressed he is in favor of giving the VNA some land, led the appeal for more study of the proposal.

Joining him in the unsuccessful move to have the matter referred back to the board for study were Aldermen Clarence A. Mitchell, Donald Mueller, Thomas K. Schneider, John Schumacher and Allan Sonkowsky.

Pointer

Gives Reasons
Pointer made his appeal on the basis of three ideas:

1. The property surrounding the site at 730 W. Fifth street probably will be in the business district in another 15 or 20 years and the home would be out of place.

2. An agreement probably could be worked out under which the VNA takes over control of the present city home, 1824 W. Spencer street. The city, Pointer said, could give the VNA money if additions were needed later on.

3. Riverview sanatorium may be available for conversion to an old folks home. Pointer said the idea stems from a rumor he heard that the sanatorium would be available.

Alderman Ervin J. Bogan, finance committee chairman and a member of the works board, told the council the board backed the VNA plan for these reasons:

Peabody Will

1. The site is centrally located. Old people, he said, the board was told, want to be able to get out and go places, not be shut out to the country.

2. The home would be a beautiful one, not detracting from the surrounding property. Bogan said the board felt the city couldn't go wrong in making the move.

Mayor Robert L. Roemer told Pointer the George F. Peabody will source of some $125,000 the VNA will use to build, requires that land be donated by the city or interested citizens.

He said he doesn't believe the school site will be part of the business district in 15 to 20 years. "It's a long way from downtown," the mayor said. Schneider asked whether a 99-year lease might not be a better answer than an outright deed.

Cast No Doubts

Alderman Homer Malmstrom, public safety committee chairman and another works board member, said the Peabody will won't permit use of Peabody money in building on the integrity of the VNA.

Sonkowsky said he simply doesn't believe old folks would be getting out and walking around too much.

Jury Awards To Parents Cut by Court

Bellaire Park Ravine Case $13,500 Award Changed to $1,250

Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell has reduced a jury's award to the mother and father of a 7-year-old boy who died after he allegedly drank contaminated water in Bellaire park ravine.

Ruling on motions, Judge Parnell ruled the jury's $11,000 award to Doris Wallace and $2,500 award to Lloyd Wallace for the loss of their son's companionship was far in excess of the $2,500 legal limit. He awarded each parent, now divorced, $1,250.

The jury last November ruled the city was negligent in using the ravine as part of its sanitary and storm sewer system. Because of this, the jury ruled, the city was responsible for the death of Michael Wallace on May 13, 1955, and the illness of Patrick Crowe, 7 at the time, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crowe, 1113 Rankin court.

The Crowes were awarded $25 for medical expenses and Patrick $1,500 to compensate him for his illness.

Mrs. Doris Wallace, 734 1/2 E. Atlantic street, also was awarded $2,000 for financial loss through her son's death.

Judge Parnell called the awards to Mrs. Wallace and Patrick Crowe high, but did not change the jury's award. He also commented that the jury's ruling on negligence on the part of the city appeared well-founded.

County Highway Officers Plan State Conference

Outagamie county Highway Commissioner Clarence J. Brownson and members of the county board's highway committee have been authorized to attend the state highway commissioners' and committee-annual conference in Milwaukee Jan. 21 through Jan. 23.

Gov. Vernon Thomson, R. H.

led that the city was negligent in using the ravine as part of its sanitary and storm sewer system. Because of this, the jury ruled, the city was responsible for the death of Michael Wallace on May 13, 1955, and the illness of Patrick Crowe, 7 at the time, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crowe, 1113 Rankin court.

The Crowes were awarded $25 for medical expenses and Patrick $1,500 to compensate him for his illness.

Judge Parnell called the awards to Mrs. Wallace and Patrick Crowe high, but did not change the jury's award. He also commented that the jury's ruling on negligence on the part of the city appeared well-founded.

Harrison, Regional Engineer, bureau of public roads, Chicago, and Robert Mathes, port specialist with Wisconsin's division of Industrial Development, will address the convention Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday's program will include discussions on winter maintenance of highways, a panel on local road records and a report on recent studies of local road classifications with Sen. Jess Miller and Otto Rollman of the legislative council's highway advisory committee leading the discussion.

Capt. James L. Karns, state traffic patrol, will speak Thursday morning on traffic law enforcement, and discussions on national and state highway legislation will follow with George Rice, Milwaukee county assistant corporation counsel, and A. J. Thelen, executive secretary Wisconsin County Boards association, scheduled to speak.

Citizens to Oppose Rides for Erb Park

Spokesman Tells Council Protest Petitions Being Circulated Now

The park board's decision to put four children's rides and a concession stand in Erb park this summer will be opposed, a spokesman for people who live near the park told the city council Wednesday night. "We feel that this is a small neighborhood park — already over capacity — and with the pool there we have enough traffic," said Mrs. Richard Baker, the spokesman. Mrs. Baker, 601 E. Grant street, was one of a delegation of 34 women who attended the council meeting. She said petitions are being circulated to protest the park board's plan. The petitions will be given to the council and the park board when completed, she said. "We question the right of anyone to install a business venture in a residentially zoned neighborhood," Mrs. Baker explained. The parks mentioned in a Post-Crescent story as using this equipment in Oshkosh and Rockford are not in residential areas. We checked. "What About Insurance?" "We ask what liability coverage there would be for children using these rides and the cost of such coverage. "But more than that we feel that having these rides in our park would lead to property value deterioration, for it is well known that people would come from a large area, including many living outside the city, to this type of thing. Mrs. Baker said the neighbors want to keep the playground equipment which the recreation commission has in the park now. The commission Tuesday night voted to move the equipment to Franklin school this summer because of the rides. "Our children," said Mrs. Baker, "do not need to spend money to be entertained. We would much prefer they learn to play tennis, swim and perhaps discover the fun of playing 'Run, Sheep, Run' or 'Red Light'."

AHS Musicians Will Play With Guest Soloist

Alfred Gallodoro Will Appear Here Tuesday, Feb. 11

Alfred Gallodoro, a reed instrument virtuoso, will appear as guest soloist with the Appleton High school band at 8:15 Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, in the AHS auditorium. This is the third consecutive year the band has played with a major artist in a formal concert.

Alfred Gallodoro

cert. Soloist for sell-out performances the last two years was Rafael Mendez, a noted trumpet player.

Gallodoro began his professional career at 15 when he was selected for first chair clarinetist and saxophonist at the largest theater in New Orleans. In the 30's, he went to featured berths with Isham Jones, Rudy Vallee, Nat Shilkret and Paul Whiteman's orchestras and, after making several concert tours as saxophone and clarinet soloist with Paul Whiteman, the musician joined the NBC symphony where he played under Arturo Toscanini and Leopold Stokowski.

Three Instruments Gallodoro currently is first saxophonist with the American Broadcasting company and is considered an expert on the saxophone, bass clarinet and B-flat clarinet.

As one number in his Appleton concert, he will play Ralph Hermann's "Concerto for Doubles," commissioned especially for him by Paul Whiteman in 1947. In this selection, Gallodoro alternates between all three of his instruments.

His appearance here is being sponsored by Heid's music store where tickets are available. On Monday evening Feb. 10, the instrumentalist will conduct a clinic for music educators in this area in Heid's recital hall.

'Around the World in 80 Days' Coming Soon To Green Bay Theater

"Around the World in 80 Days" Academy Award winning movie of 1956, will open for the first time north of Milwaukee at the West theater in Green Bay early in February.

Conversion of the theater started Monday so that the film can be shown in the Todd-AO process according to E. R. Brennan, district manager. Special speakers, amplifiers and other equipment will be installed.

The movie based on the Jules Verne classic, has been showing in many cities for more than a year. It was filmed in 32 foreign countries from China to Spain and was produced by Michael Todd.

Board Cited Picnics Mrs. Baker reported her group opposes installing rides in any city park this year or any other year. The park board, in making an agreement with Joseph Koshnick, Stevens Point, the ride concessionaire, expressed belief the move would be a good one for the park because of the large number of picnics held in it annually. Board members told Koshnick they would not open similar concessions in other parks if his venture proved financially successful. The matter of liability insurance was referred to City Atty Don Jury, who will discuss it later with the park board. The board said the rides would be installed as near the park's center as possible to keep down complaints from residents. Board members regard Erb park as one of the city's three "big" parks, along with Pierce and Telulah parks.

Members of Faith Lutheran church have voted to build a $90,000 to $100,000 addition to their church as soon as sufficient funds are raised.

According to Oscar Schirm, chairman of the parish expansion committee, the fund campaign will begin next week and continue over a 1-month period. If the drive is successful, construction will begin soon afterwards.

The 2-story addition will extend west on W. Alice street toward N. Drew street and will provide room for 20 more Sunday school classrooms and seating capacity for 200 additional worshippers. It will be built of stone and glass with red mahogany trim. Edgar A. Stubenrauch, Sheboygan, is architect.

According to Schirm, the congregation has grown steadily since it was organized in 1949 and since the church was built in 1950. The parish now numbers 900 members, including children and 300 Sunday school youngsters.

The Rev. H. E. Simon is pastor.

Returns in the First English Lutheran church campaign for parish hall funds are at $84,300, about what the finance committee anticipated according to Gordon Bubolz, drive chairman. The congregation's goal is $150,000.

Solicitation is being conducted in the form of conferences with potential donors. Meetings will continue through Friday, Bubolz said.

Teachers Plan Annual Parley

Elementary Personnel Will Meet Monday At Foster School

The annual meeting of all teaching and administrative personnel in the public school system will be held at 7 o'clock Monday evening at Foster school.

The group meets in a body once each year to discuss subjects pertaining to education and to report on in-service studies conducted within the system. The meeting, also is considered an in-service event.

This year's theme is "Gifted Children—Are We Meeting the Challenge" and is a continuation of a gifted child study begun several years ago.

Principal speaker will be Dr. Edwin H. Olson, assistant professor of psychology at Lawrence college, who will discuss a study he is helping with at Jackson school. Slides of work done in various classrooms will be shown. Participants will be Miss Alice Moehring and Miss Olga Heller, general co-chairmen; Richard Haas and Robert Kenney, slides and commentary; Miss Marie Turritt, progress report on the gifted; and Mrs. Theresa Novokofski, refreshments.

In previous years, the meeting has included a dinner but the format was changed to a dessert meeting because of an increase in elementary personnel, according to Miss Martha Sorensen, director of elementary education.

Lincoln PTA Plans Music Demonstrations

A lecture-demonstration on instrumental music will be given during the Lincoln school Parent-Teacher association meeting at 7:45 tonight at the school.

Two instructors in the public school music department, Anthony Bacich and Frank Comella, will speak and illustrate with small groups of instrumental music students.

Pegler Calls This 'Age of Grafters'

Claims Conflicts of Interest Common Condition in Public Life

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York — A conflict of interest is morally intolerable but is nevertheless a common condition in our public life and in private employment.

When Charles Wilson of General Motors took office as secretary of defense he had to sell off stocks in companies which obviously would be in the market for contracts to be let by his overall authority as a public officer.

Pegler

probably correct report that Taft had about $80,000 saved when he took his job teaching law at Yale to which he commuted in the ordinary chair cars on the New Haven from and to Grand Central.

Coolidge's reputation for stinginess followed him down from Plymouth, Vt., but it can't be said that he ever took a shady dollar. His successors have included grafters who set an example which may fairly be held partly responsible for the corruption of youth which the workers call juvenile delinquency.

Close To Point

Wendell Willkie came close to the point when, in one of his campaign jibes at F. D. Roosevelt, he announced that, if he were elected, he would file in public a sworn statement of all his possessions and those of his wife and son.

I once sat on the hot seat at a congressional hearing where I adduced proof of corruption in unions and learned at the noon recess, lunching with Congressman Tom Verdell, of California, that the dais was loaded with union bosses sitting in congress, presumably drawing their union pay and expense allowances as they had a right to under the public laws. Union laws, of course, are indecent in all matters.

One of the men in the inquiry was from Independence, Mo., Harry Truman's home district. Irving by name, who had two new Cadillacs in Washington, both furnished by his subjects in Independence and Kansas City. His racket was a group of locals of the Operating Engineers, the old Joe Fay and Bill Maloney mob, which couldn't be more disgusting than the Teamsters but will qualify for a photo finish in that respect.

Subsidize M.P.s

In England, the mother of parliaments is tolerant to a shameful fault of the acceptance of private retainers and pay and expenses by M.P.'s of all parties. The British unions subsidize M.P.'s just as our rackets do in the state, county and municipal councils, as well as the national legislature. British brewers and others with interests at stake in parliament have bribed or subsidized their puppets for many years. Of late there has been a mild reform which is by no means total or effective but is, nevertheless, a reproach to us in all our legislative, judicial and administrative offices because we have never made even the pretense except in a few cabinet cases.

Congressional grafters pick up untold fortunes in bribes at from $1,000 to $2,500 a night making speeches for clients with interests coming up before them.

In journalism there was a time when graft was frowned upon. Sport writers were wrongfully presumed to be essential. The permit was the specially receptive but nobody ever offered me a dollar except one fight manager who sent me a check, probably of value because we all used to the project will cost about say that an amateur, and an honest man was a guy who would not take a check.

Now, almost anything goes. (Copyright, 1958)

Permit Issued For N. Richmond Service Station

Cities Service Oil company today received a permit to build a service station at 1741 N. Richmond street for about $25,000.

Records at Building Inspector Walter Bogan's office show the station will be constructed of masonry, with 29.4 feet frontage on N. Richmond, 48.8 feet of depth and be 16 feet high.

Other permits went to:

Darrell Holcomb, for a 9-room house, with two baths, a powder room and attached garage, to be built at 1113 E. Moorpark avenue for about $30,000. The permit was the seventh for a house to be issued this year.

H. R. Brown, for construction of a basement under the rubber, I returned it without house at 431 S. Badger avenue. The project will cost about $500.

Dennis Krause, for razing the residence at 210 W. Wisconsin avenue at no cost.

Negotiate When There Is Hope

The pressure for some kind of a summit meeting between the United States and Russia continues, along with pleas to listen more closely to Harold Stassen's reported advice to go along with some of the Soviet's disarmament proposals. Secy. Dulles is called "inflexible" for his repeated stand that this country has made every attempt to come to an honest agreement with Russia on the control of arms.

As President Eisenhower inferred in his State of the Union address, and stated in his letter to Premier Bulganin, he would be willing to talk with anyone at any time if there were some sort of assurance that such a meeting would lead to the preservation of peace and the furthering of justice. But the frantic people, understandably panicked by the thought of a war that might fatally injure the human race, should take a peek at the past.

There is, for instance, as a matter of record the letter from the then Peoples Commissar for Foreign Affairs Maxim Litvinov at the time President Roosevelt recognized the Soviet Union.

Among other things Mr. Litvinov pledged, in the name of his government:

... to respect scrupulously the indisputable right of the United States to order its own life within its own jurisdiction in its own way, and to refrain from interfering in any manner in the internal affairs of the United States, its territories and possessions ... To refrain and to restrain all persons in (Soviet) government service and all organizations of the government ... from any act overt or covert liable in any way whatsoever to injure the tranquility, prosperity, order or security of the whole or any part of the United States ... Not to form, subsidize, support or permit on its territory military organizations or groups having the aim of armed struggle against the United States ... Not to permit the formation ... of any organization or group ... which has as an aim the overthrow or the preparation for the overthrow of ... the political or social order of the United States ...

Obviously the actions of the Rosenbergs, Sobles and Golds gave the lie to Comrade Litvinov's smiling pledge, as well as the countless evidence collected through two decades of subversive movements sponsored and financed by the Kremlin.

And an earlier Soviet leader might better be believed. The works of Lenin, like Hitler's Mein Kampf, are a blueprint for conquest.

We declare we are fighting capitalism as such, the free, republican, democratic capitalism included ... A communist must be prepared to make every sacrifice and, if necessary, even resort to all sorts of schemes and stratagems, employ illegitimate methods, conceal the truth ... We repudiate all such morality that is taken outside of human class concepts. We say, "Morality is that which serves to destroy the old exploiting society and to unite all the toilers around the proletariat, which is creating a new communist society."

Prime Minister Macmillan, like wishful thinkers throughout the world, commented that the Russian New Year hopes didn't sound bad at all. But those who believe the pious speeches because they see nothing but destruction in any other direction should read Lenin over again.

As long as capitalism and socialism remain, we cannot live in peace. In the end one or the other will triumph—a funeral requiem will be sung either over the Soviet Republic or over world capitalism. This is a respite in war ... We are living not only in a state, but in a system of states, and the existence of the Soviet Republic side by side with imperialistic states for a long time is unthinkable ...

Negotiate if there is any hope of success, of course. But where in the words and history of communism is there any evidence of support for such faith? Let us not lose our liberties by a refusal to acknowledge the hue of the devil we face—and undoubtedly will continue to face until Lenin's requiem is sung over one side or the other.

Cornucopia

Again the nation has recorded a corn harvest of historic size, and the financial editor of one of the large New York newspapers writes about the astonishing results the American farmer has achieved with hybrid seed, better fertilization, more intensive cropping and the other techniques of the Twentieth century in soil management.

The nation's corn output this year is estimated at more than 3.4 billion bushels, which is the third highest on record. It is more than the U. S. Department of Agriculture bargained for. The nation's needs are for about 3.2 billions, and thus another increase in the country's surplus of this staple crop is in prospect.

We sometimes tend to forget, in this state where the milk cow is the symbol of agricultural enterprise, that Wisconsin is one of the important corn producing states. Wisconsin farmers, like those of others in good soil areas, have learned how to push their production up without increasing their acreage. Wisconsin yields are now consistently above 100 million bushels of corn a year for grain—not to mention enormous acreages of corn cut green for fodder.

The 46-bushel-per-acre average for the country which has startled the New York economics writer, moreover, is a pretty poor achievement in this part of the country.

This year Wisconsin farmers who raised corn for grain recorded an average output of 62 bushels per acre. Even when all of the acreage devoted to corn, including that in the short season counties of upper Wisconsin, is considered the grain equivalent reached an average of 58 bushels to the acre.

The American citizen typically believes that Iowa is the champion corn growing state of the country. Actually Wisconsin has several times led the nation in per acre yields, and in 1957 was second only to Illinois in the "corn belt." Iowa was third.

What these proud figures show us, of course, is that we have learned more about production than we have about utilization of this basic crop. The nation's surplus is being enlarged despite the fact that more than 5 million acres of allotted corn acreage in 1957 were taken out of production by way of the federal "soil bank" at a cost to the United States taxpayers of $200 millions. The farmer can produce enough corn to feed 170 million Americans and a large part of the population of other countries, without exerting himself to his capacity. In that is exhibited the genius of our agriculture, and a nagging problem of our political system.

What Woke Mr. Gates?

The resignation of John Gates, former editor of the Daily Worker, from the Communist party may be part of a gimmick to give the impression that the party is no longer of consequence in this country. Gates suggests that "the best thing to do about the Communist party is to leave it alone. No one could do a better job of destroying itself than the party itself. I think it is time the anti-Communist racket is brought to an end in this country." But more likely it is a result of an intra-party feud in which Gates lost out.

Gates was a member of the party for 27 years, one of the seven party secretaries, commissar of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade when it fought in Spain. He was a paratrooper in the U. S. Army during World War II and then spent more than three years in prison as a convicted communist conspirator.

But now, says Gates, he has discovered that "the Communist party has ceased to be an effective force for democracy, peace and socialism in the United States ... The Soviet government is not a democratic government. Here we have elected representatives, the right of opposition and free speech ... These do not exist, except in part, in the Soviet Union."

It took 27 years of party membership to discover that? Or is it simply that Gates was beaten in a battle for control of the party that may be dying of malnutrition in this country?

Gates now says he wants "to rejoin the American people." He'll probably find it easy enough, but not if he is looking for the trappings of power, the rigid authority and the desire for martyrdom that seems to motivate most party members.

What Others are Saying

Paying Excellent Teachers

From Wisconsin Tax News

Anticipating criticism of the proposed 1958 school budget, the Kenosha board of education had prepared for public distribution a pamphlet discussing the school situation.

Among the reasons given by the board for the higher proposed budget is the need for compensating excellent teachers for their service.

With this the taxpayers of the state are in full agreement, and some may be surprised at this implied board of education admission that it is possible to determine when a teacher is excellent and when he or she is less than excellent.

Giving the excellent teacher an excellent stipend is an excellent way of guaranteeing an excellent supply of excellent teachers. Scattering pay increases across-the-board blindly in hope that some will hit excellent teachers is money wasted if the objective is an adequate supply of competent educators.

Isn't Somebody Sometimes Forgetting We're All in the Same Boat?

These Days

Opera Impresario Finds Young People Interested in Better Music

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

There are perhaps as many as a hundred companies stamping out recordings of great and small music, of everything from medieval masses to rock-n-roll. There are about 1,000 symphony orchestras of varying size and degrees of perfection. High school and college students divide between "long-hairs" and jazz as they used to between the Dodgers and the Giants.

Sokolsky

I recently received a letter from Felix W. Salmaggi, the opera impresario, in which he said:

"We have just returned from a hectic 7-week tour of the United States and Canada ... and of the 17 principal artists on the roster, everyone was a young American singer. Actually of the 75 members of our troupe only a few might be termed foreigners ... the nice thing about it was that several reviewers remarked what a pleasure it was to see young singers with fresh voices on the stage. Before we selected these artists for the tour we auditioned some two or three hundred applicants ... actually the outlet for these operatic artists is very ... limited. Another interesting facet is that in almost every town we visited (and we hit 35 cities) we were flooded with requests for auditions. Good voices too—but what are you going to do with them? The audiences, too, were remarkably young. In Corvallis, Oregon, for instance, we had a crowd of 5,000 young college kids, most of whom had never seen an opera. They were as enthusiastic a bunch as I have ever witnessed."

Opera Good for Them

It is better that these youngsters be excited about opera than about gang fights. It is better that they become absorbed in any intellectual activity than just hanging around, and music does stimulate the mind and the spirit. Going to the opera is not only an enjoyable activity; it can even become a habit. One listens to the same opera dozens of times and wonders how differently it is interpreted each time.

American singers and artists are usually not given to the tantrums that used to be so characteristic of sopranos and tenors, although the really great ones, such as Caruso, never tried to attract attention to themselves by acting queer.

The truth of what happened in Rome to Maria Callas we shall probably never know because the story has been muddled by politicians, press agents, a husband, the Italian Parliament, Elsa Maxwell, and a thousand eye-witnesses. It has happened before that a singer lost the voice from a cold or because he ate crabmeat or oysters or something and got a bellyache. Why is it that in the case of the New York born Callas, everybody, except her husband and Elsa Maxwell, suspected malingering, which is a fancy word for "putting it on," as they used to say when the little girl banged her head on the floor?

"Give the Girl a Hand" Callas, as a New York girl, seems to have gone more European than the older Europeans. The Romans showed their contempt; they got another gal to sing "Norma," and turned Callas down cold when she even threatened to sue to be permitted to sing. Such is the way of music-lovers. If Lily Pons or Roberta Peters sang off key, an American audience would be forgiving, but Callas has got herself all fouled up in temperament which is the external expression off the stage of insecurity on the stage.

In this country, audiences usually give the artist the breaks. We do not go in for hissing and booing the way they do in Europe, and artists who hire claqueurs to applaud them are regarded as bad characters. As a matter of fact, practically everybody is applauded on the general assumption that this is a tough chore and give the girl a big hand!

It might be suggested to Callas that the best thing to do is to play it straight for the next year or two and to get a reputation of being regular. Then she will get applause without tantrums. If she catches a cold or has a bad day, someone will replace her as they always do. Somebody will sing the part even if it is the wonderful Eleanor Steber from Wheeling, West Virginia, who steps in at a moment's notice to save the day.

It shows, however, how important opera has become. The quarrel between Callas and the Rome opera ran front page in all newspapers like a murder or a Sputnik.

Looking Backward

Retiring County Officer Praised

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Jan. 18, 1879.

Lieut. Richard Bottrell, the retiring County Treasurer, has returned to his farm in Dale. It is proper to say that Outagamie County never had a more competent, efficient, trustworthy and accommodating Treasurer than Richard Bottrell.

His re-election was prevented not because of any personal or official unpopularity, but by a blind, unreasoning, intolerant clannishness of nationality.

All good citizens will take care to use their influence hereafter to discourage the introduction of such an element into our politics.

Thursday, Jan. 12, 1933

One new director, Seymour Gmeiner, was elected at the annual meeting of stockholders of Appleton State bank and six directors were re-elected. Mr. Gmeiner replaced Gustave Keller, Sr., who had expressed his desire to retire from active participation in the bank's work. Directors re-elected were B. J. Zuehlke, A. H. Krugmeier, Herman Wieckert, John L. Hettinger, A. F. Zuehlke and M. A. Schub.

Otto F. Fischer, Appleton jeweler, spoke to the Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting on the history of pearls, pearl buying and pearl fishing.

Raymond Bernhard Voight, Appleton, was awarded the Purple Heart medal for meritorious service overseas during World War I.

Winter feeding of game birds and their general welfare was discussed at a meeting of officers and directors of Outagamie county Fish and Game Protective association at the offices of Alfred S. Bradford, Secretary.

Anton Jansen, Little Chute, was the principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club. Jansen discussed problems of unemployment relief with regard to federal and state aid, mothers' and blind and old age pensions.

Miss Min Smith was installed as worthy matron and Henry Behnke as worthy patron of Fidelity chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Keith Hardacker, Appleton, assumed his new position as concert committee chairman and Carl Sager took over as president of the Valley Symphony orchestra. Jeanette Melchior was publicity chairman.

Norman Maas, route 1, Seymour, was elected to represent Outagamie county on the board of directors of the newly formed Northwestern Wisconsin Farm Management association, according to J. F. Magnus, county agent.

Appleton city council adopted a street and bridge committee report recommending purchase of two trucks with dump bodies at a net total price of $4,144 after trade in of an old 1937 truck.

Conservation Board Head Praised for Work

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—There probably was a strong flavor of fraternal affection in the declaration of Charles F. Smith of Wausau, the senior member of the state conservation commission, that Chairman L. F. Seyberth of the commission is the most effective and hardest working head the commission has ever had.

But it also was clear from the enthusiasm with which Seyberth was renominated and reelected by acclamation at the commission's last session here that this important and extremely popular state agency now is in good hands and that its morale and spirit are high.

The fact was underlined again later in the day when the commissioners leaned back to hear a series of oral reports on the worries and the problems and the work of the principal division administrators.

To a man they spoke proudly and confidently. There was not a single hint of discontent, or recrimination, or fear—sentiments which are only too uncomfortably visible in such circumstances during earlier regimes.

MORALE

Veteran Neil LeMay, longtime head of the forest protection division of the department, probably keyed the staff attitude when he ran through his own report and then pointedly referred to his own morale and that of his subordinates.

He and his associates feel that state employees have never made the gains scored in the last couple of years. It was evident that he alluded not only to pay and other perquisites, but to the spirit of the administration of the conservation department. Under any other circumstances LeMay's little speech might have sounded a little maudlin. In its context, however, it was significant and revealing.

It is a truism of politics that men sometimes rise to their responsibilities—even when at the time they assume them they seem to have only ordinary attainments.

Seyberth was a successful Eau Claire businessman when Gov. Kohler nominated him for one of the coveted seats on the commission. (Why this unpaid assignment attracts such enormous competition is one of the great mysteries of Wisconsin politics.)

8-Year-Old Makes Judgment on Legs

Des Moines—Pat Thompson, 8, overheard his parents discussing the propriety of very short shorts a young woman wore on a downtown street here. "I'll admit she does have beautiful legs," said Mrs. Thompson. "Yeah," Pat commented. "For a girl."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

NEWS of the FOX CITIES BUSINESS and INDUSTRY

A Cutler-Hammer branch sales office has been opened in the Irving Zuelke building, P. S. Jones, vice president in charge of sales, has announced. Jones said the branch office will permit improved sales coverage and customer service for patrons of the electrical firm's Milwaukee district sales office. Leonard R. Risse will be in charge of the Appleton office.

North Central Airlines carried 45 per cent more passengers in December than during the same month in 1956, according to Hal N. Carr, president.

The Twin Cities-based airline carried 51,750 passengers last month, compared with 35,740 in December of 1956. North Central flew nearly 807,100 scheduled miles last month, compared with 584,500 in December, 1956, an increase of 36 per cent.

Gregory Eisch, 1107 N. Gillett street, division manager for the Southwestern Petroleum company with headquarters in Fort Worth, Texas, has been honored at a banquet at Fort Worth, where he received his company's highest award, the "President's" trophy. Officers, sales managers and department heads gave the dinner in tribute to their top salesman.

Mrs. Marie Eisch, who accompanied her husband to Texas, was given $1,000 by Orville Utley, executive vice president. Eisch won the award in competition with salesmen in the 48 states, Canada, and 63 foreign countries. Since joining the company four years ago, the company has consistently ranked among the company's top ten salesmen and he's the only salesman in the company's history to win the president's trophy twice. He also won last year.

H. Max Hughson has joined Biron division of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company as technical supervisor, it has been announced by Warren Beadle, division manager.

A native of Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, Hughson has been employed by Provincial Paper, Ltd., Port Arthur, Ontario as control superintendent.

Appointment of Orville E. Fisher, 1829 N. Union street, Appleton, as assistant manager of Archer-Daniels - Midland company's branch grain office at Duluth, Minn., was announced by Carl C. Farrington, vice president and manager of the ADM grain division.

Fisher previously was associated with Knauf and Tesche company, Chilton, for three years and before that with Carbert gill, Inc., Minneapolis, for 15 years. A native of Gilby, North Dakota, Fisher is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. James M. Hart has been elected president of Schwarz Paper company, Chicago, succeeding

S. L. Schwarz, founder, who continues as chairman. E. J. Loewenthal was made vice chairman; J. Allen Schmick, sales vice president, J. A. Kelly, secretary and treasurer.

W. C. Havelaar has been appointed sales vice president of Chicago Paper company, Chicago.

F. W. Woolworth company reports 1957 sales exceeded year previous totals by 2.2 per cent. Sales amounted to $823,712,987, compared to $806,000,537 in 1956. December sales were up .14 per cent from $139,724,352 a year ago to $139,919,342.

More than 1,100 Home Mutual insurance agents from four midwestern states are eligible to earn a 3-day, all-expense paid vacation in northern Wisconsin next September as guests of the company.

Agents in Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Indiana have been notified of the promotion. There are approximately 16 agents in the Appleton area. The 6-month contest, which opens with new business effective on or after Feb. 1, is part of the company's program to reach a $6 million premium goal in 1958. The figure represents an increase of nearly $750,000 over the 1957 premium total of $54 million.

H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea company, has reported annual sales of more than $681 million, for a gain of over $63 million compared to the previous year, and the fifteenth consecutive sales record for the Chicago based food chain.

Sales for the 4-week period ending Dec. 28, 1957, also were the highest of any 4-week period in the company's history and 19.25 per cent greater than the corresponding period of 1956, when sales were $51,232,786.

National Tea company's consolidated sales for the year ending Dec. 28, 1957, totaled $681,132,700, compared with $617,635,555 for 1956. Total increase for 1957 was $63,497,145, a gain of 10.28 per cent.

Roger H. Rehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Rehman, has been appointed general manager of Bogda Motors company, Green Bay.

Russell Bogda was reelected president by the board. Mrs. Russell Bogda was reelected vice president and secretary-treasurer. Rehman is a 1938 graduate of Bear Creek High school and received a bachelor of arts degree in economics at St. Norbert college in 1942. He served in the infantry as a lieutenant during World War II. He served as business manager of Bogda Motors from 1944 to 1953, when he became secretary-treasurer. He is married and has seven children. The family lives in DePere.

Red Scientists Aim at Dark Side of Moon

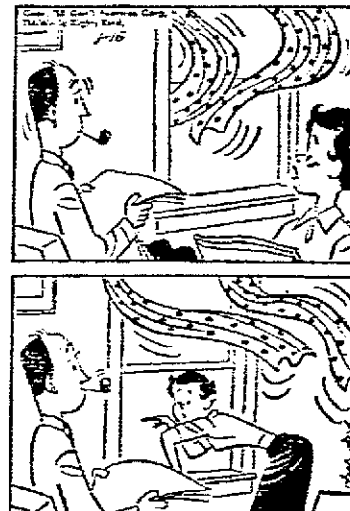

Moscow — "I think we will see what's on the other side of the moon very soon," Prof. G. A. Chebotarev of the Leningrad Institute of Theoretical Astronomy, said Tuesday.

"This year will bring us closer to turning purely theoretical calculations into reality," the professor added in an interview published in the newspaper Soviet Russia.

He predicted that Russian scientists would first send a non-guided, unmanned rocket to the moon which would explode on hitting the moon's surface. He said this will provide valuable information about the surface of the moon.

This would be followed by a rocket that would shoot around both the earth and moon in a cigar-shaped orbit and provide information on the moon's surface by television.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Do not say, "He lives a far distance away." Say, "a GREAT distance."

Synonyms: End (verb), stop, finish, conclude, discontinue, terminate.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: elucidate; to make clear or manifest; illustrate. "Since it seems you do not understand the subject, I shall elucidate."

Prison Officers Upset By Magician's Stunts

Louisville, Ky. — "Officials at La Grange reformatory laid down the law to Magician Al Hixenbaugh as he prepared to entertain prisoners by pulling two guns, a dagger and a butcher knife out of a box. Prison officials gasped, and guards quickly took the weapons to a guard house. An earlier stunt upset them even more. Hixenbaugh had slipped the two guns past two guards in the first place."

Celery Brings Touch of Spring to Winter Meals

Nothing succeeds like celery needn't fear waistline reprisals — as a seasoning, a relish, and you may well lose some vegetable, and an all-round pounds and inches.

Celery has been socially prominent for ages. The ancient Greeks esteemed it so highly that they used celery stalks as awards to athletic celebrities. Today, we serve the stalks teamed with chilled olives or carrot sticks, at our banquets for celebrities.

Besides the crisp texture and delicate, aromatic flavor that bring a June-in-January refreshment to midwinter, celery is always a popular table guest because of its congenial disposition. A good mixer, it goes with, and flatters, such a wide variety of foods.

In hors d'oeuvres, salads and sandwiches, celery points up the flavor of seafood, cheese, chicken, nuts, apples, avocados or what crave you. Celery enhances the blend goodness of potatoes in a steaming satisfying casserole. Smothered celery and onions complement each other deliciously in a new and different side dish.

Weight-Watcher's Joy And, oh joy for the weight watcher who feels the irresistible urge to fall off the diet wagon, a good-sized stalk of celery counts only seven calories.

Go ahead and nibble — you and cook slowly until vegetables are tender but not brown. Toss lightly with seasonings.

Stuffed Celery
6 ribs celery
1 cup crumbled Roquefort cheese
3-ounce package cream cheese
1-16 teaspoon ground cayenne pepper
Paprika for garnish
Wash and cut celery ribs into 3-inch pieces. Combine Roquefort cheese, cream cheese and cayenne pepper. Mix well. Stuff celery pieces. Garnish with paprika.

Celery Fingers
1 cup minced celery
1 tablespoon finely chopped nuts
1 tablespoon finely chopped olives
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika
4 thin slices bread
Butter
Combine first seven ingredients. Mix well.
Remove bread crusts. Spread thinly with butter over which spread celery mixture. Cut into 1-inch strips. Serve as a salad accompaniment or with afternoon tea.

Celery-Nut Salad
1 cup thinly sliced green peppers
1 cup diced unpeeled fresh apples
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 tablespoons sour cream
1 1/2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
Head lettuce
2 cups grated fresh carrots
Combine all ingredients except lettuce and carrots. Arrange on lettuce. Garnish with grated carrots sprinkled around the edge.

Celery-Potato Casserole
3 cups thinly sliced celery
3 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes
1 1/2 cups thinly sliced onions
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
Fill a 6-cup casserole with alternating layers of celery, potatoes and onions. Sprinkle flour evenly over each layer.

Federal Aid to Schools to Be Limited, Predicts Laird

Congress in its new session proved," said the Republican representative.

Laird advised district residents that he intends to push again for his own bill to provide income tax relief for parents with payments for high school and college instruction.

His measure would provide for a 30 per cent direct offset against federal income taxes for all amounts paid by parents to high schools and colleges for fees and tuition.

Laird predicted that the presidential recommendation for a 5-year renewal of the reciprocal local school construction, defeated last year, "will not see the light of day in this session," year extension, he said, and "The final outcome will undoubtedly result in a limited scholarship program being ap-

Smothered Celery and Onions complement each other deliciously in this different side dish. Fresh green peppers add extra flavor and color highlight.

Courteous Service

HOLLYWOOD DISCOVERS US! — During its first six months, PARK 'N' MARKET was used as the set for super-market sequences for Marathon's new movie on pre-packaging of food products, called "SUNNY PAK". The store was chosen because of its excellent lighting, ultra-modern appearance, and general attractiveness.

A SECOND PRIZE award in a coast-to-coast apple display contest was won by our produce manager, George Schubring, during National Apple Week. The contest was sponsored by the National Apple Grower's association. Placing second in the nation made us very proud!

Cherry-Nutmeg Sauce Is Served with Cherry-Cheese Blintzes, a versatile dish that can be served for brunch, luncheon or supper.

Pancakes Glamorous Cherry-Cheese Blintzes Versatile Menu Fare

Unusual and versatile are two words to describe this intriguing dish, Cherry Cheese Blintzes.

Unusual because of the blending of flavors, rich sweet cherry nutmeg sauce and the distinctive flavor of pancakes, cottage cheese and sour cream that are served hot. Versatile because of the many occasions for which this dish is suited; a late breakfast or brunch, a luncheon or supper dish, or as a dessert for a regular dinner or a festive occasion.

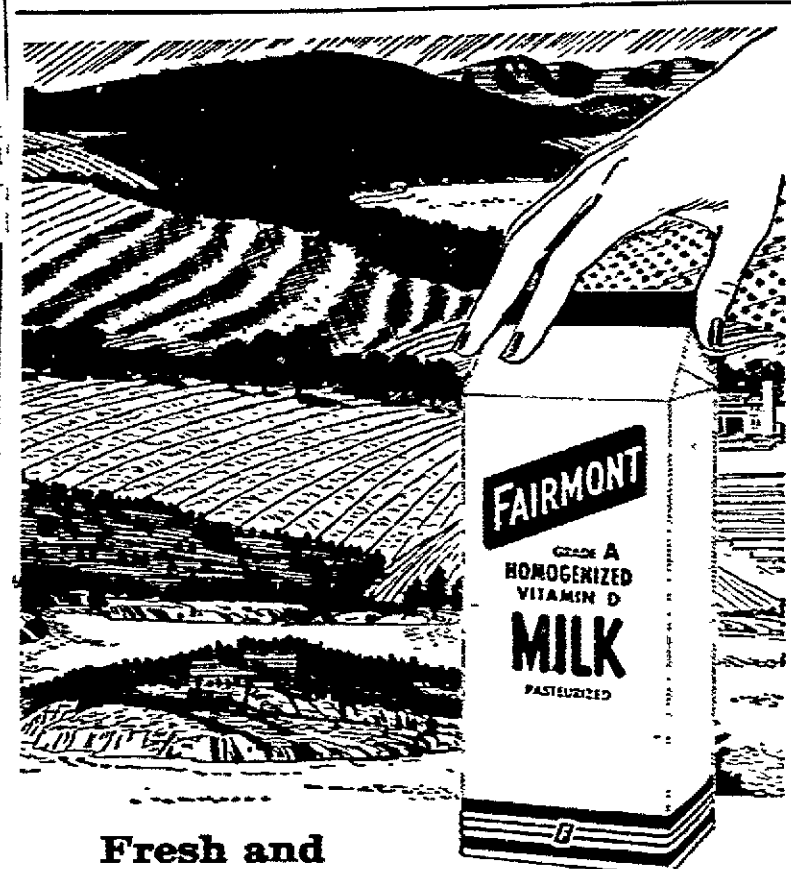

The secret of success for this appetite tempting dish is the cherry-nutmeg sauce. Sweet canned cherries lend just the right amount of sweetness to this delicious dessert and the nutmeg gives it that little extra "zing." There are three varieties of cherries from which to choose: dark, plump Lamberts and Bings or golden Royal Annes.

Cherry-Nutmeg Sauce
1 1-pound can sweet cherries
Cherry syrup plus water to make 1 cup
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Few grains salt
2 tablespoons honey
3 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 tablespoon butter
Drain and pit cherries. In saucepan, combine small amount cherry syrup with cornstarch and salt. Add remaining syrup and honey. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly until thickened and clear; add butter, pitted cherries and nutmeg. Makes two cups sauce.

Cheese Blintzes
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 eggs
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 cup flour
Few grains salt
Drain cottage cheese and mix with sour cream, sugar, and cinnamon. Set aside while mixing pancakes.

Beat eggs, add milk and oil; add flour and salt, and beat until very smooth. On lightly greased griddle, fry about two tablespoons batter at a time to make thin pancakes. Brown of cheese filling.

The Law and You

Wills Necessary to Channel Property to Desired People

Many an average person has thought "Wills are for people with a lot of money." If that's what you've been thinking, here are two examples you should consider.

A young man with a wife and several small children says, "I don't need a will I don't have very much, and what I do have will go to my wife and kids anyway." He is right about where his money will go but wrong about not needing a will.

His wife will get one-third of his property, and his children will get the remainder of it. But will his widow be able to spend the portion belonging to the children for their food, housing, and education? Maybe—maybe not. Her job as administrator or guardian of the children is to preserve their shares until they become 21. Only by court permission can she spend it, even for their benefit.

Must Post Bond
By will the husband could have left everything to his wife and made it available for the family's needs. A will is more important to this man's family than to the family of a millionaire.

The widow, as administrator of her husband's estate, will be required to post bond for faithful performance of her duties.

By will, she could have been named executor without bond. Even in a small estate the bond is likely to amount to several times the cost of a will.

Take another case. An elderly man, whose children are all self-supporting, thinks he is taking care of his wife without a will by putting all his property in joint tenancy. As survivor she will be entitled to all joint property. But then he is killed in an auto accident. His estate recovers a large judgment. Because he had no will his widow gets only one-third of it although she needs the money worse than the children who inherit the other two-thirds.

Whether you have a large amount of property or a little, a will can see that the largest possible amount is passed on to your family.

(The State Bar of Wisconsin offers this column to inform, not to advise. Facts may change the application of the law.)

This Hot Dip Sauce For Potato Chips

Homemakers searching for a "hot" dip or sauce to serve on wintry nights will find this Gay Nineties Chip Dip ideal for all occasions.

Made with American Cheese and musty ale or beer, this dip has a tangy flavor that is sure to please the guests. Here is the Gay Nineties Chip Dip recipe:

To each pound of soft American cheese add a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce six tablespoons of musty ale or beer, a saltspoonful of salt, a dash of red pepper, a saltspoonful of white pepper, a teaspoonful of horseradish and one clove of garlic.

Chop or grate the cheese. Rub the pan or chafing dish with the garlic. Mix all seasoning with the cheese.

Put the ale or beer into the saucepan; as soon as it is hot and boiling, add the cheese and stir constantly and continuously until smooth and creamy. Toward the last, beat rapidly. Turn it into a very hot bowl and serve at once on a hot platter surrounded by crisp potato chips.

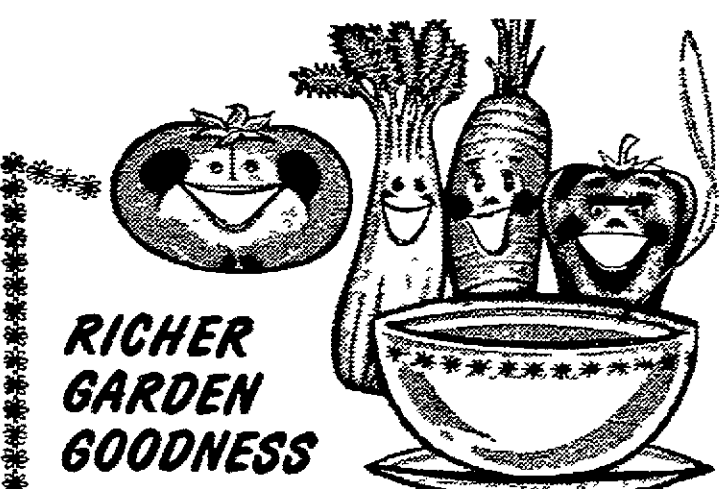

Thin Pancakes Filled With Creamed Chicken Good Luncheon Treat

When you're filling thin pancakes with creamed chicken for a fancy lunch, you'll need a cup of cream sauce and two cups of cubed chicken for the filling. An extra cup of the sauce, flavored with grated Parmesan or Romano cheese may be used for the topping.
